Should I Choose Digital Applications?

The digital applications course is designed to teach creative skills in graphics, animation and multimedia products. This course will teach you how to use a range of software packages effectively to meet realistic project briefs.

- DON'T choose it because you quite like browsing the internet sometimes.
- DO choose it if you want to combine skills from art, english and technology.
- DO choose it if you are creative and you like the challenge of turning concepts into digital reality.

Keen to do programming and good at maths?
Why not consider the GCSE Computer Science Option?
