- If you do not have an exam, you go to your normal lesson. At the end of an exam, you go to your normal lesson/break.
- Your teacher may allow you to use lesson time as revision time during this period. However within some subjects, such as the BTEC subjects, you are still working on coursework and will continue to do so during lessons.
- More detail about how to assemble for these exams and the organisation of the week will be presented to you after the Easter holidays.
