Dear Parent/ Carer

I am pleased to be able to offer your year 10 son/daughter the opportunity to participate in an interactive learning workshop which is being led by the company Front Line Living History and will complement student learning of Medicine on the Western Front which is 10% of the GCSE History course.

We have been fortunate enough to host this company before and the students found their sessions engaging and hands on. The workshop which your son/ daughter will attend is led by – experienced historical interpreters with years of expertise in WW1 battlefield medicine and working in education – and aim to cover the content of the Edexcel GCSE Historic Environment study. Workshops are supported by hundreds of authentic artefacts, hands-on and role play activities and carefully-chosen period images and film; and – most importantly – they are based entirely upon the actual experiences of those who served Britain during the Great War.

An authentically-uniformed Regimental Medical Officer and Royal Army Medical Corps Orderly will lead the students through a wide range of important topics including:

- Conditions in the trenches and how they impacted upon the health and wellbeing of soldiers, and how they affected the wounds, recovery and treatment of casualties
- Common trench illnesses including lice infestation, trench foot, PUO
- Wounding and disease agents, and their relative significance
- The introduction and effectiveness of personal protective equipment such as shrapnel helmets and gas masks
- The roles of the different medical staff working on the Western Front
- The Casualty Evacuation Chain from Battlefield to Blighty
- The legacy of Great War battlefield medicine – how experimentation, improvisation and innovation developed medical techniques and technologies leading to better care for Great War casualties and for everyone since.
