

PURITAS VERITAS PROBITAS

FRIDAY 20th MAY 2022 - Headmaster's Weekly Letter Home

Dear Parents

As the Year 1 and 2 boys sped past me on their bikes yesterday at Mr Field's Bike Club, I was struck with a sense of how fast they are progressing both physically and academically. This half term has flown by and after the half term break we head into exam week and the final weeks of this academic year.

Of course, the exam week is in many ways the culmination of months of work by the boys and the staff and for the Year 8 boys especially, it is an important milestone. But I also want to reassure parents that it is more about getting the boys used to the process of revision and experiencing examination protocols than the actual results. Of course every boy should strive to do his best, but it should not be stressful for children or parents. We are reiterating to the boys constantly that, rightly or wrongly, examinations are part of children's lives at this time of year, with the majority of GCSE, A level and further education exams falling in May and June. Please do remind your sons that all they must do is try their best and exams are not something that define you.

I am a huge fan of day and residential trips; having been on a variety of excursions throughout my teaching career, I have seen how much they enrich the boys' character and build their resilience. Along with all the sports, music and drama co-curricular events next half term, we have BBQs, information evenings and Prize Giving. It is going to be an action-packed final half term; please check the calendar so you don't miss out on anything.

Enjoy your weekend.
