Arts Award Success at Woodcroft

On Tuesday evening, 24 of our ex-pupils were invited to attend the annual Arts Award Presentation Party.

Woodcroft is an accredited Arts Council ArtsAward Centre affiliated to Trinity College London. Pupils in Year 6 are given the opportunity to submit an art portfolio of their work for Bronze Arts Award accreditation. A national Level 1 qualification.

We are also pleased to announce that two pupils, Sara and Lucia, from our class of 23, successfully achieved their Silver Arts Award. The accomplishment was the result of supporting Woodcroft's Art Club, collaborating with professional artists and submitting an extensive portfolio of work. Sara was able to collect her qualification, a Level 2 national award at our awards ceremony on Tuesday.

Woodcroft is able to offer these awards through the dedication of our staff, trained Arts Awards advisors that has led to Woodcroft achieving Trinity College Champion Centre Status

Do not bring Labubu dolls to school

Labubu dolls may look cute and innocent, but we cannot allow these toys into school for the following reasons:

- These desirable toys are going missing from bags, causing problems in the classroom.
- They are designed as adult collectables and not children's toys.
- Many dolls are actually fakes and have the potential to cause real harm due to choking hazards and toxic chemicals.
- Their limited availability puts pressure on families to purchase, causing financial issues.

For further information please read this BBC News report:

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/news/articles/c8645pdq4e0o>

Please can we ask parents to remove these toys from bags and explain to children the reasons why they are not suitable for school. It is school policy not to allow toys from home to be brought into school. Thank you for your support on this matter.
