- Candidates may appeal if they feel their coursework has been assessed unfairly, inconsistently or not in accordance with the specification for the qualification.
- Appeals should be made in writing at least 2 weeks before the last external exam in that subject to the head of centre (or other nominee) who will decide whether the process used conformed to the necessary requirements.

- EARs may be requested by centre staff or candidates if there are reasonable grounds for believing there has been an error in marking.
- If a result is queried, the exams officer, teaching staff and head of centre will investigate the feasibility of asking for a review of marking at the centre's expense.
- When the centre does not uphold an EAR, a candidate may apply to have an enquiry carried out. If a candidate requires this against the advice of subject staff, they will be charged.

11.3 Appeals against decisions taken in relation to EAR's

The centre is obliged to publish a separate procedure on this subject, which is available from the exams office (see DCC Appeals Procedure document attached).

The main points are:

- Appeals will only be considered if they apply to the process leading to the decision to support an EAR.

GCSE reviews of marking cannot be applied for once a script has been returned. (See also section 5: Exam fees)
