Hull City of Culture

The Sixteen Thousand is a project devised for children in Hull aged 0-5 years. It involves children from all nurseries, schools and early years settings making individual bricks to represent the 16,000 children in the city. 'Each brick will show the marks of the child that made it. Each brick will be unique and beautiful. When brought together it will be powerful.'

The 16,000 bricks will be displayed together, in Hull, as an installation. When we have been informed where we will let you know so that you and you child can visit.
