

Week beginning 11th June 2018.

Owl Babies

It's been another busy week, as always! The children have loved listening to our new story; Owl Babies. They have begun to learn the signifiers to help them re-tell the story and have been writing sentences in speech bubbles.

In Maths we have been focussing on halving groups of objects, which the children have worked really hard on.

The children have also been learning facts about owls. Some of them are very interesting, some of them are quite revolting!

Thank you to everyone who went to the Summer Fair and for all the donations that you all made.
