

The first stage of our Christmas card making got underway today... in Maths! The children worked really well at thinking about the pattern as they created their masterpieces.

We don't want to spoil any Christmas surprises that might be heading home but the children did a great job today.