

After our Winter Investigation this morning and discovering 'frost', we decided to find out about Jack Frost. We know that he is a made up character, used in stories, and that he is always dressed in silvery blue and white and makes everything cold and frosty! What do you think of our Jack Frost puppets? We loved making them!

First of all we had to glue on two googly eyes and draw on Jack Frost's mouth. We decided to do it in blue because his lips would be so cold!

Then we had to choose which coloured material we would like to use to make his cape. We had snowy white, frosty grey, icy blue and magical silver.

Next we had to gather up the cape around the wooden spoon and fasten it tightly with a pipe-cleaner, sparkly wire or ribbon.

After that we had to decorate our 'Jack Frosts' with icy looking hair and make him look even more magical.

The results were quite fabulous!
