

Week beginning 26th April 2021.

What a week!

The children have been working really hard again this week. We started off by reading our new story called 'Handa's Hen', which they really enjoyed.

We have found Kenya on the map, which is where Handa lives. After exploring the describing words (adjectives) used in the book, the children all had a go at describing our chicks. They even had a go at writing their own simple captions or sentences using a describing word in each one.

In Maths we have been looking at some of the teen numbers, which we will continue to do next week. We have realised that each one is made by adding ones to a set of ten! Amazing! And did you know that the 1 at the front isn't even a 1, it's a 10 but the 0 is hidden? True mathematicians!

Enjoy the Bank Holiday weekend and we will see you back at school on Wednesday.
