

Home School Diary

Well, we can't believe that it's half term already. It seems like just yesterday we met all the lovely children in our class. What a busy half term it has been, the children have learnt so much and grown a lot too.

We've had a fabulous last week. The children had an amazing time at the Halloween disco on Wednesday and enjoyed the Halloween activities in the morning. They also had a fun day on Thursday playing the Hull Fair games and tasting the traditional Hull Fair treats.

Over the half term we would like the children to have a go at a few things...

We have sent home a name writing sheet that we would like to children to complete over the holiday. You don't need to bring it back, it's to keep at home to practise.

We'd also like them to practise putting their coat on and zipping it up by themselves. This includes putting their sleeves the right way too. A few children have mastered this, but as the weather becomes colder the children will need this skill when we play outside.

Next half term will be all about celebrations, starting with Bonfire night and Guy Fawkes. We're really excited to learn some history and have more fun.

Have a lovely half term break and stay safe.
