

Home School Diary

The children have settled back in well this week. We have started our new topic 'Down at the bottom of the garden' with the story 'Oliver's Vegetables' as our inspiration. The smell of the different vegetables in the classroom has lovely.

We have been busy in the garden too. Digging over the mud and making delicious 'dinners' in the mud kitchen. The children are getting better at putting the wetsuits on themselves and loved finding worms and just getting dirty. It was great fun.

We of course loved World Book Day yesterday. The children all looked fabulous, and we shared a lot of different stories and books. It was lovely to see the children so excited about the books they wanted to share.

For this week's home task, we'd like you to talk about what you can see outside. Maybe in your garden or in the park. We're thinking about the natural things we can see outside. We'd love to see your pictures.

Also, to finish off world book day, we'd love to see photos of you reading stories at home. Have a nice weekend.
