

Something exciting has happened outside!
Everything has frozen!

“It’s winter,” said Lottie.
“Ice makes my hands cold.”

“It can snow,” said Yasmeen.

Jacob told us, “When we touch ice with our gloves they get wet.”

“I saw snow out of the cloud and played in it,” said Cally.

“I’d seen snow when went to town,” said Brody.

Mia knew she needed her hat and scarf. "Keep me warm".

Roman knew that most of the trees in winter don't have any leaves. "They all fall off."

The children used tweezers to try and cover our winter tree with 'snow'. It was quite tricky!

We decided to paint some winter pictures. Did you know that you can make lots of different blue colours by mixing bright blue and white? Look at this...

When our paper was covered in blues, we used a blue crayon to scratch marks into the wet paint to show the wind blowing. Thia had told us, "Wind is like 'wooo'." Then we printed snowflakes falling from the sky, just like Cally had told us. Finally, we added just a little bit of frost to make them extra specially beautiful!
