

Today in Science Council we opted to play a Science board game based on recycling called 'What's Rubbish?' It was a lovely time to laugh and compete against each other and consider recycled items too.

