Programmes of Study

History

- Develop a chronologically secure knowledge and understanding of British history, establishing clear narratives within and across the periods they study.
- Know about changes in Britain from the Stone Age to the Iron Age.
- Note connections, contrasts and trends over time and develop the appropriate use of historical terms.
- Understand how our knowledge the (prehistoric) past is constructed from a range sources (including archaeological excavation, and the reliability of such sources).
- Know and understand significant aspects of the history of the wider world: the nature of ancient civilisations; characteristic features of past non-European societies.
- Gain historical perspectives by placing their growing knowledge into different contexts, understanding the connections between short-and long-term time-scales.
- Understand the abstract term 'civilisation'.
- Gain and deploy a historically grounded understanding of abstract terms such as 'empire'.
- Understand historical concepts such as continuity and change, similarity, difference and significance.
- Undertake an in-depth study of a non-European society that provides contrasts with British history.

English Text Types—Biographies (Roman Emperor); Letters (Invasion of Romans); Myths & Legends (Roman Myths); Poetry.
