

Help your child to read and write

We follow the Sounds~Write:
a linguistic phonics programme at Biddick Hall Infant and Nursery

www.sounds-write.co.uk

Why Sounds~Write?

Because every one of you has a child who can already listen and speak.

No-one has to send their child to school to learn what comes naturally.

What doesn't come naturally is learning to read and write.

How does the English alphabet code work?

To become fluent readers and spellers children need to know:

- 1: Letters are used to spell individual sounds (one at a time, from left to right across the page).
- 2: Each sound may be spelled by one or more letters.

Cat ship night weight

How does the English alphabet code work?

To become fluent readers and spellers children need to know:

3: Sounds may be written in more than one way:

play, rain, great, gate

ay , ai , ea,

4: Many spellings represent more than one sound.

the spelling < ea > can represent the sounds:

seat, head, break

What do we think reading is about?

What skills need to be practised and perfected to become a fluent reader?

- Segmenting
- Blending
- Phoneme manipulation

You also need code knowledge: how to spell the sounds in the language. We practice these skills daily in our phonics sessions

Say the sounds correctly

When your children start to learn to read and write, we DO NOT use letter names. We just say the sounds very precisely. Here's an example of what we mean. But don't worry if you are not very sure, soon your child will be telling you how it's done.

Home reading books

The children will receive a reading book that comes home every day. This is to be read by the child alongside an adult.

Children will be reading in school daily so please ensure they bring their reading book into school every day.

Please do not put anything else in your child's book bag except their reading book and reading diary. Please read the teachers comments and write any comments after reading with your child in their reading diary.
