

Teach a Grown-Up!

Interview an adult in your household to find out how much they know about online safety and write their answers in the spaces provided. If they're not as clued up as you are, use your knowledge to teach them... with a little help from the answer sheet if you need it!

1. What is online safety?

2. Who might be a digital citizen?

3. What is cyberbullying?

4. If a child is sent a mean message online, what is the first thing they should do?

5. You see a photograph you like online and want to share it. How can you make sure you are using someone else's work fairly?

6. Write your own question here: _____

Teach a Grown-Up! Answers

Question	Answer
1.	What is online safety?
Online safety is using your skills and knowledge to keep you and your information safe on all online devices.
2.	Who might be a digital citizen?
A digital citizen is anyone who interacts with any online content or any people online.
3.	What is cyberbullying?
Cyberbullying is bullying via any electronic method – it could be email, social media, texts or any other messaging services. It may take the form of direct messages to the person or sharing mean content about the person.
4.	If a child is sent a mean message online, what is the first thing they should do?
Tell a trusted adult.
5.	You see a photograph you like online and want to share it. How can you make sure you are using someone else's work fairly?
Tell the photographer if you can. Always write a citation to give them the credit
6.	Write your own question here: