

Tell Me What You See:

Winter

Adult Guidance

- This PowerPoint contains eleven interesting winter photographs. It has been designed to stimulate talk and encourage children to share experiences and talk about what they can see.
- Follow the children's lead and talk about the things they are interested in.
- Try to keep questions to a minimum. The aim of displaying these photos is to use them as a stimulus and to provoke an emotional response.
- Try displaying the image and leaving it available for children to talk about as they play and explore.
- Use these photo pages over time.
- You may wish to display a photo after children have discovered something for themselves. For example, display the frozen leaves or cobweb image if they have seen frost outside.
- If the children are not interested in the photo, then move on to another photo.
