

Celebrations as results show sixth form is one of the best

St Edmund's has been named a top sixth form for student progress in recent figures.

St Edmund's are proud and delighted to be one of the top three performing sixth forms in Wolverhampton based on student progress in last summer's A-level and Btec exams.

In the recently published Department of Education league tables, students who study post 16 at St Edmund's are shown to make excellent progress across a whole range of academic and vocational subjects.

This position was reinforced by Ofsted who visited the school in November 2019 and classed sixth form provision at St Edmund's as "excellent".

Principal of St Edmund's, Maggie Hazeldine said: "I am thrilled to see our sixth form go from strength to strength.

"Our sixth form subject tutors are all first class specialists in their academic or vocational field and this, combined with outstanding pastoral and careers guidance, ensures our students leave fully prepared for university or higher level apprenticeships.

"The sixth form team Ms Toor, Mrs Hogg and Mrs Scott lie at the heart of what makes St Edmunds sixth form unique. They are relentless in their drive to secure each student's happiness and success.

"They focus on managing the demands of sixth form life with care and balance. It is this focus on good mental health, stress management, study skills and time management that makes St Edmund's sixth form so special."

Sixth formers enjoy their own common room, kitchen, break out rooms and group spaces to develop their independence in preparation for university life.

Each year, St Edmund's has many students who join from other schools who speak highly of the level of support on offer.

Visitors are welcome and Head of Sixth Form Ms Toor is always happy to show parents and students the St Ed's sixth form experience.
