Many congratulations to Alperton Community School on becoming 'Maths team of the year' in the 2017 TES Awards on 23 June.

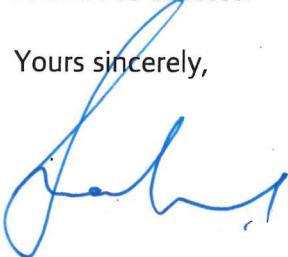

I am delighted that you have been recognised for such a prestigious national award. The TES Award is clearly a great accolade for your Maths department that last year achieved 96% A* to C for statistics and is among the top 1% in the country for progress. And at a time when your school has achieved its best ever overall GCSE and A Level results.

I am pleased that your school has been involved in some of the major Greater London Authority (GLA) education programmes in recent years, particularly the London Schools Excellence Fund, the London Curriculum and the London Ambitions portal. Indeed, your teachers, Shilpy Saini and Nasser Al-Araimy, provided some really positive feedback after participating in CPD sessions in the Harrow Chemistry Hub, one of the Fund's legacy hubs.

I do hope that your school will continue to draw on the education support and resources of City Hall – such my Getting Ahead London scheme to develop new school leaders or working towards an award in Healthy Schools London. Information is on the GLA website at: www.london.gov.uk/what-we-do/education-and-youth and www.healthyschools.london.gov.uk/.

I want to take this opportunity to thank you for Alperton Community School's brilliant work with young Londoners. I have no doubt that your Maths department and whole school team's enthusiasm for, and excitement about, education will continue to help your students go from success to success.

Yours sincerely,

Sadiq Khan
Mayor of London
