Dear Parent/Carer

I write to you regarding the Education Secretary's recent announcement to cancel Year 13 A Level exams this May and June.

I am aware that you recently received your son's PPE assessment report. Please be advised that these grades are not the final predicted grades for your son. We are mindful that students have another six weeks of study left and typically put in a significant amount of work in the final half term leading to their exams. The predicted grades that staff submit in May could well change for some.

Please be assured that the May submission will take place so boys MUST continue working and impressing their teachers with the work they do via Google Classrooms. Teachers will still be setting and marking work for students and the boys will be expected to engage fully with this learning. We will keep you informed of any development in relation to Year 13 exams as soon as we have updated information.

We are exceptionally proud of our Year 13 students and all the hard work they have demonstrated through the course of their A levels. We are here to alleviate any anxiety during this difficult time, and should boys have any specific questions please do not hesitate to contact Mrs Jeffrey or myself by email.

Yours sincerely,

E Igbokwe
