Dear Students of Year 7

I would like to say welcome back after the Easter break, and I hope you are all staying safe, staying in and keeping busy.

I know that leading up to your Easter Holidays a lot of you spoke to your form tutors and I was really pleased to hear that you had really positive conversations. Hopefully, in the next few weeks, your tutors will be calling or emailing you again to make sure you are all ok and explain what is expected of you while you are studying from home. Your teachers and other members of staff are always there to help you, so if you have any problems or questions, please email them. They will reply to you as soon as they can.

Remember to keep up with your school work, we really DO NOT want any of you to fall behind. You should all be completing two to three pieces of work a day. Completed work should be uploaded to Google Classroom, if asked to. Instructions on how to do this should now be available in the classrooms or on Smart Homework.

All work will continue to be shown on REALSMART, so that you can see when work is being set. The instructions and method of handing in will then be detailed on Google Classroom. If, for any reason you cannot do this, please email your teacher.

Also, keep checking the Daily Notices and Well-being Google Classroom for tasks, tips and ideas. There is currently an EGS challenge, which I would like you all to try.

If you are really bored and have completed all your work, try to take up a new hobby. I know there are teachers who have taken up painting, playing the piano, and learning a new language. Personally, I am keeping busy with the Joe Wicks work out every day, started cycling again and working on my pottery skills.

Remember, we have very high expectations of you so please keep working hard, stay positive and most importantly, stay safe.

I am only an email away if you need to contact me.

Yours sincerely

C Chrysanthou
