

Hello, it is fantastic that you will be joining us at Enfield Grammar School very soon! While we are all in lockdown, I thought that you could have a sneak preview of our lower school library noticeboard. For some magical reason, my posts keep moving around, so take your time and have a good look:

On the noticeboard, for things to read - lookout for:

Anthony Horowitz – Diamond Brothers

J.K. Rowling – Harry Potter - If you have spotify, you can listen to celebrities reading chapters from ‘The Philosopher’s Stone’ – I have written a quiz for the first chapter on a separate notice.

Also from J.K.Rowling, her new book ‘The Ickabog’

Dan Freedman – Jamie Johnson Series - ‘The Kick Off’

‘The Book of Hopes’ – free collection of stories dedicated to everyone currently working in hospitals.

Neil Gaiman – read aloud with Neil Gaiman

The Guinness Book of World Records Official Website – everyone’s favourite!

For another sneaky preview, I attach the English Departments reading challenge for year 7. This will give you a head start! How many can you read over the next academic year?

If you are looking for more inspiration, use the ‘Love Reading’ link where you can browse recommended books for different ages.

Most of all, enjoy the library noticeboard with the whole family! Let me know what you think!

See you soon,

Mrs Rudolph
