

As part of our Houses
and Homes topic we have been reading
The Three Little Pigs.
Today we decided to paint pictures of the pigs but realised that we didn't have any pink paint! Whatever
could we do?
Let's see how we managed...

We had plenty of white paint but what other colour did we need? Isabella told us that we needed red too. Isaac said you could make 'pale pink' by adding just a little bit of red. If you added more red the pink was a stronger colour. Mixing the colours was quite magical!

We needed
to paint
circular
shapes to create our pigs.

We tried hard to hold the paint brush just like we do a pencil.

The results were fabulous! The cutest pink pigs that ever there were!
