

IT'S WORLD BOOK DAY!

Choose at least two of the screen free activities to complete this afternoon. We would love you to share examples of these on our google stream. Have fun!

Decorate an Egg

Using a book you have read this week see if you can decorate an egg and turn it into a book character!

Egg Drop Challenge

Can you design a contraption to protect a raw egg? Firstly, design your contraption on paper. Then use a range of materials to create your contraption. Pop your egg inside and drop it from a high place. Will your egg stay in one piece or will it break like Humpty Dumpty did when he fell off the wall?

Maybe you could have a challenge with your family!

Extreme Reading

Can you find a fun or unusual place to read? Ask somebody to take a picture of you reading and post to our google stream. The most unusual reading spaces will be added to our website!

Comic Strip

Can you turn the story of the book you have been reading into a comic strip? You might use speech bubbles, thought bubbles or caption boxes.

An Egg-citing Recipe

Can you create a meal or snack using a theme from your book? You might make a cake, scrambled egg or something else! Write out your recipe and enjoy tasting your delicious creation!

Ask an adult for help.

Read to your sibling or a pet!

Cuddle up to your brother, sister or your pet and share a book together

World Book Day Fashion Show

Using what you have in the house. Can you dress as your favourite book character? We would love to see photos on the google stream.

Can we guess who you are?

Alternatively, can you design a party outfit for one of your book's characters?
