Violence against women

Felt weirdly embarrassed recently to admit to my boyfriend that the reason I'd stopped running in the dark was because it scared me... moments like this remind me why I'm right to be scared. #SarahEverard #RIPSarahEverard

Every woman you know has taken a different route. Every woman you know has held keys for self defence. Every woman you know has made a fake phone call. Every woman you know has turned a corner and run. Every woman you know has walked in fear. #allwomen #SarahEverard 💔

we always think it would never happen to us but we stop our music when walking alone, pretend to tie our laces to let the man you think is following you walk ahead of you, call a friend just in case, have 999 dialled already, have keys in our hands and it's 2021 #SarahEverard

Discussion

Is it ok...

- Is it ok to 'move to' a girl when she's on her own in public (a bus, or on the street)?
- Is it ok to 'move to' a girl' a girl when she's at a party with a group of friends?
- Is it ok to comment on a girl's appearance if you don't know her? 'Hi I just wanted to say you are so beautiful'...
- Is it ok to ask for a girl's number in public if you don't know her? 'Hi babes can I have your number/snapchat...'

If you're walking behind a woman late at night, cross the road, slow down, or move away so she feels safer.

If you're next to a female on a bus, on a train, or in a classroom or at work, maintain personal space.

What can males do to change their behaviour and make females feel safe in public?

Only approach a female if they are in a safe place like at a party. If they are not interested in talking to you, no means no. Walk away.

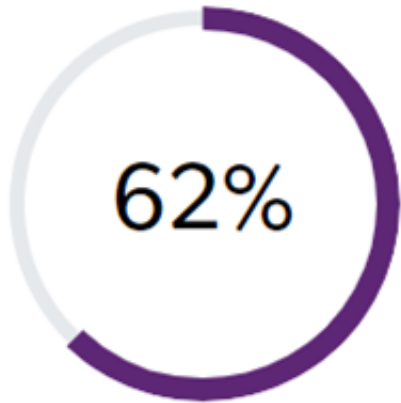

Do not catcall, shout at females, or approach them in public. You have no idea how you'll make that person feel and if they'll feel scared or unsafe.

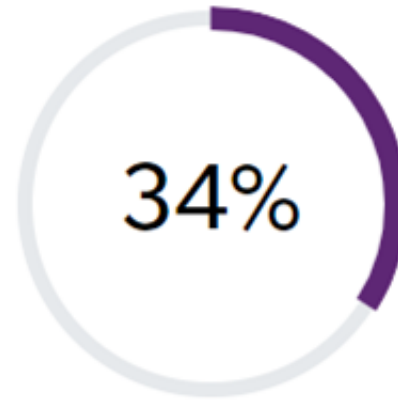

The Data...

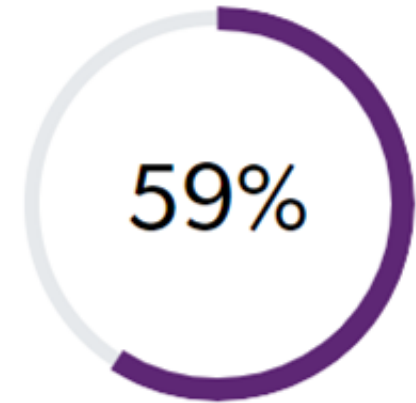

On average, a woman is killed by a man every 3 days

62% of all women killed by men (888/1,425) were killed by a current or former partner.

At least 34% of women killed had children under 18 years of age.

A history of abuse was known in 59% of 1,042 femicides committed by current or former partners or other male relatives.

Femicide: the intentional killing of women or girls because they are female
