What are we learning this term?

Rotation 3 and 4 (Week 21-39):

In this skills building unit the students will look at the British Seaside from a Graphic Design perspective. Students will explore the variety of key elements found at British coastal town or resort. They will use this knowledge to gather research images and information to support their drawing studies later on. In the first rotation, our learners start the project by producing a moodboard in Photoshop, selecting and researching a British Resort or town, analysing existing posters, analysing the work of Michael Craig-Martin and producing their first digital line drawing work in Photoshop.

In the second half of the project we will work on producing a poster or postcard for their chosen British seaside resort or town. Students will start to put together their design in Photoshop and then develop this. To develop their poster or postcard, students will look at experimenting with colour, fonts, backgrounds, image, layout, blending options and information. Throughout the process of development our students will arrive at a poster or postcard design and will finally reflect on the progress that they have made throughout the unit by writing an evaluation.
