NOTES:

Kathryn Stephenson (Headteacher)

Justin Waters (Director of Business Services)

Day to day responsibility for ensuring this policy is put into practice is delegated to:

Justin Waters (Director of Business Services)

Premises Services Manager

If the Headteacher is not always there, or does not have time to manage on a day-to-day basis, you can delegate this role to someone else, e.g. Deputy Headteacher, Head of Year or Premises Officer etc. Ensure that the person with overall responsibility is kept informed of Health and Safety matters and trained as required – it will still be their overall responsibility

To ensure Health and Safety standards are maintained/improved, the following people have responsibility in the following areas:

Brian Horner & Pat Dunnill (Health and Safety Governors)

Designated Safeguarding Lead

Premises Services Manager

Assistant Head/EVC

Head of Design & Food Technology

Head of Physical Education

Head of Science

Head Chef

Name: Curriculum Leaders

Responsibility: Subject Areas

Note: If a member of staff is absent from their place of duty for a prolonged period of time, they are to nominate a replacement and inform the Headteacher.

Delegate functions to people within your organisation either by specific areas within the workplace or by topic. Include their specific responsibilities in their job descriptions (if they have one).

Ensure that they are competent to undertake their Health and Safety responsibilities and have adequate resources to enable them to do their job properly.

It is important that responsibilities are clearly set out – this will make sure that if there are any Health and Safety concerns they can be reported to the right person so they can be dealt with.

Specific responsibilities for school governors, headteachers, managers, heads of departments and staff can be found in the NYCC Corporate Health and Safety Policy which can be found in:

PA to Headteacher's Office

All employees have to:

- co-operate with supervisors and managers on Health and Safety matters;
- not interfere with anything provided to safeguard their Health and Safety;
- take reasonable care of their own Health and Safety; and
- report all Health and Safety concerns to an appropriate person (as detailed in this policy statement).

Employees have legal responsibilities to take care of the Health and Safety of themselves and others, and to co-operate with management to help comply with the law.

Equally, if employees have any concerns over health and safety issues they should be clear about whom they should inform so that concerns can be addressed.

Health surveillance is required for employees doing the following jobs:

Display Screen Equipment assessments for computer operatives
Site operatives / Caretakers
Underlying Illness
Maternity
Return to work

NOTE

Employees must receive health surveillance for certain work (e.g. work with lead, chrome, asbestos, noise, isocyanates and some chemicals). This will identify any health problems early on so that action can be taken before an employee's condition worsens.

- Refer to NYCC Occupational Health service

Your COSHH assessments should identify all areas and the type of health surveillance needed.

Health surveillance will be arranged by:

NYCC Occupational Health department
HR Team
Director of Business Services
Premises Services Manager
Managers

Your records should contain details of the employees, the health surveillance procedures, dates and conclusions. The health care professional doing the surveillance will hold the actual medical records, as these are confidential.

Providing immediate first aid can prevent minor injuries becoming major ones.

Health surveillance records will be kept by/at:

Health and Safety Management file in the PA to Headteacher's Office
Personal Files
HR Records

As a minimum you must have a first aid box and an appointed person to take charge of first aid requirements. You can find more information in HSE's free leaflets:

You can do this both actively and reactively, i.e. before and after something goes wrong.

Actively - you or other appointed person can carry out inspections, have reports submitted to you by managers, do spot check visits, safety representative inspections, etc.

Trade union safety reps have the right to carry out inspections and investigate accidents.

Reactively - you can investigate any accidents or sickness absences that occur.

Investigating accidents is a useful way of reviewing your safety systems – ask yourself why the accident really happened and what you can do to stop it happening again.

Similarly, if you have a number of employees absent because of similar ailments, this might mean there is a problem with their jobs causing ill health.

When you find out what went wrong – put it right.

The person responsible for investigating accidents is:

Appointed person
Director of Business Services or
Premises Services Manager/Caretaking Team
(to monitor)

A type three survey must be undertaken before any invasive construction/demolition work commences, unless it is absolutely certain that no ACMs are present in the work area.

Contractors - The location of ACMs indicated on the plan must be brought to the attention of all contractors coming on site. The Permit/Authority to Work form confirming this fact must be completed by the contractor before work commences.

Risk Assessment and Inspection - A risk assessment must be undertaken for all known ACMs. The level of risk will depend on the type of material, its location and its condition. Using the algorithm attached to the survey a visual inspection programme of ACMs must be set up. The risk assessment will help you to establish the necessary frequency of visual inspections.

Emergency Action - The 'Asbestos Emergency Action Plan' should be readily available and brought to the attention of all staff.
