

Checklist for Statutory Requirements to be Included in School Website

What academies, free schools and colleges should publish online

The information that academies, including 16 to 19 colleges and any educational institution that has academy arrangements, should publish on their websites.

If your school or college is one of the following types, you need to check your funding agreement to find out exactly what information you must publish on your website:

- academies, including free schools, studio schools and university technical colleges
- sixth-form colleges
- general further education (FE) colleges

There are also publishing requirements set out within the Equality Act 2010 and Children and Families Act 2014, with which you must comply.

This guidance gives an overview of those requirements and the further information that the Department for Education (DfE) recommends that you publish on your website if you are one of these schools or colleges. Many academy trusts are under a duty to publish much of this further information, due to clauses in their funding agreements.

7	The setting's approach to teaching children/young people with SEND
1	 The setting's approach to teaching children/young people with SEND How will the setting staff support the child/young person?
	 How will the curriculum be matched to the child's/young person's needs? Include information about the setting's approach to differentiation and the skills that setting staff have to support this.
	 How will this help the child/young person to make progress?
	 How does the setting approach the identification of need and the matching of those needs to appropriate provision? What is the education setting's approach to differentiation and how does that support children/young people? Explain the different roles that setting staff have in supporting young people.
	(N.B A provision map can help to show very clearly the support that is on offer and to provide an overview of the programmes and interventions used with different groups of children/young people.)
8 /	How the setting adapts the curriculum and learning environment for children/young people with SEND
6.82	 How does the setting approach the identification of need and the matching of those needs to appropriate provision?
	 How does the setting adapt the curriculum and learning environment? This can refer to the overall inclusion statement.
	 How is learning planned for children/young people with SEND, including group and individual adaptations to the curriculum?
	• What is the approach to differentiation and what are the skills that setting staff have to support this specifically around SEND?
	 How does this help the child/young person with SEND to make progress? For example, how does an individual education plan, pupil passport/profile, a learning and observation journal impact the learning?
	 Explain the different roles that your staff have in supporting children/young people with SEND.
	 The setting should make clear the reasonable adjustments that the setting makes to meet the range of SEND.
7	Additional support for learning that is available to children/young people with SEND
	 How is the decision made about the type and how much support a child will receive?
	• Outline here the additional support and types of support that are offered to children/young people with SEND. Include information on how resources are allocated.
	 Also include information on access arrangements that can be made available for public examinations.
	 Describe how decisions are made about additional support, who will be involved and their role in the decision making process?
44.1	How are parents/carers involved in this process?
11 / 6.82	How the Setting enables children and young people with SEN to enagage in activities available with children and young people in the Setting who do not have SEN.
0.02	 What extracurricular activities does the setting run? How are these made available for children and young people with SEND?
	Make clear whether children with SEND will be able to access all these activities and how the education setting assists the children/young people to do so?
	 How are children/young people and their parents/carers involved in planning for any activities or trips, and the support that is provided? How will SEND children be included in activities outside the setting classroom including trips?
	• What support & arrangements do you have in place during lunchtimes and breaks and at the beginning and end of the setting day?
12	Support for improving the emotional and social development of children/young people with SEND
	• What support is available for children's overall wellbeing? Explain the pastoral, medical and social support available for children with SEND
	 How does the setting manage the administration of medicines and providing personal care?
	 What support is there for behaviour, avoiding exclusions and increasing attendance?
	 How does the setting ensure the safety of the children/young people with SEND?
	• How does the setting support children/young people including those with SEND to contribute to all parts of setting life , including setting councils, class reps or roles of responsibility?
	• How are children /young people able to contribute their views? What arrangements are in place for listening to their views?
	What measures does the Setting put in place to prevent bullying?
	• Do you specifically report on issues of bullying specifically against children/young people with SEND? How do you prevent bullying of children/young people with SEND?

9	Information about the expertise and training of staff in relation to children and young people with and about how specialist expertise will be secured	I
	• What specialist services and expertise are available at or accessed by the setting? - Provision mapping can help to show what the	I
	setting is offering from within its own resources and what is on offer from external agencies.	I
	• What training have the staff supporting SEND children/youn people had or what training are they having? (SEND training record/training plan)
	 Outline the settings approach to training and development of staff to enable them to support children with SEND. Explain how the 	l setting would prepare for a child coming to the setting who had needs that they have not previously supported.
	Do specialist staff work at the setting and what qualifications do they have?	I
	• What other services does the setting access? Include health, therapy and social care services. Include any specialist organisation	I that provides support e.g. related to mental health. This should also include recent and future planned training and disability	l awareness relating to education and the wellbeing of the child or young person. This section should include details of mandatory	l

SEND Code of Practice Publishing information: SEND information report – Page 106

6.79 The governing bodies of maintained schools and maintained nursery schools and the proprietors of academy schools must publish information on their websites about the implementation of the governing body's or the proprietor's policy for pupils with SEN. The information published should be updated annually and any changes to the information occurring during the year should be updated as soon as possible. The information required is set out in the Special Educational Needs and Disability. Regulations 2014 and must include information about:

- 1. the kinds of SEN that are provided for
- 2. policies for identifying children and young people with SEN and assessing their needs, including the name and contact details of the SENCo (mainstream schools)
- 3. arrangements for consulting parents of children with SEN and involving them in their child's education
- 4. arrangements for consulting young people with SEN and involving them in their education
- 5. arrangements for assessing and reviewing children and young people's progress towards outcomes. This should include the opportunities available to work with parents and young people as part of this assessment and review
- 6. arrangements for supporting children and young people in moving between phases of education and in preparing for adulthood. As young people prepare for adulthood outcomes should reflect their ambitions, which could include higher education, employment, independent living and participation in society
- 7. the approach to teaching children and young people with SEN
- 8. how adaptations are made to the curriculum and the learning environment of children and young people with SEN
- 9. the expertise and training of staff to support children and young people with SEN, including how specialist expertise will be secured
- 10. evaluating the effectiveness of the provision made for children and young people with SEN
- 11. how children and young people with SEN are enabled to engage in activities available with children and young people in the school who do not have SEN
- 12. support for improving emotional and social development. This should include extra pastoral support arrangements for listening to the views of children and young people with SEN and measures to prevent bullying
- 13. how the school involves other bodies, including health and social care bodies, local authority support services and voluntary sector organisations, in meeting children and young people's SEN and supporting their families
- 14. arrangements for handling complaints from parents of children with SEN about the provision made at the school

6.80 The above should include arrangements for supporting children and young people who are looked after by the local authority and have SEN.

6.81 Schools should ensure that the information is easily accessible by young people and parents and is set out in clear, straightforward language. It should include information on the school's SEN policy and named contacts within the school for situations where young people or parents have concerns. It should also give details of the school's contribution to the Local Offer and must include information on where the local authority's Local Offer is published.

6.82 In setting out details of the broad and balanced curriculum provided in each year, schools should include details of how the curriculum is adapted or made accessible for pupils with SEN.

6.83 Schools should also make data on the levels and types of need within the school available to the local authority. This data will be required to inform local strategic planning of SEN support, and to enable the local authority to identify pupils who have or may have SEN. Such data, collected through the School Census, is also required to produce the national SEN information report.
