

Checklist for Statutory Requirements to be Included in School Website

What academies, free schools and colleges must or should publish online

If your school or college is one of the following types, you need to check your funding agreement to find out exactly what information you must publish on your website:

- academies, including free schools, studio schools and university technical colleges
- sixth-form colleges
- general further education (FE) colleges

There are also publishing requirements set out within the Equality Act 2010 and Children and Families Act 2014, with which you must comply.

This guidance gives an overview of those requirements and the further information that the Department for Education (DfE) recommends that these schools and colleges publish on their websites. Many academy trusts are under a duty to publish much of this further information, due to clauses in their funding agreements.

Red Section shows latest Updates from DfE in September 2022

	16 to 19 academies and colleges If you're a 16 to 19 academy, FE college or sixth-form college, we recommend that you publish details of your admission arrangements. You should publish this information a year before the beginning of the academic year to which arrangements apply, to help parents and students make an informed choice, and we recommend that the arrangements do not change during the year. You should include details of: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • open days your college or academy is planning • the process for applying for a place at your college or academy whether your college or academy gives priority to applications from pupils enrolled at particular schools
School Uniform	The department produces statutory guidance on the cost of school uniforms. Schools must have regard to this guidance when developing and implementing their school uniform policy. This guidance requires schools to publish their uniform policy on their website. The published uniform policy should be easy to understand and, where a school has a school uniform, should: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • clearly state whether an item is optional or required • make clear if the item will only be worn at certain times of the year (for example, if it's summer or winter uniform) • make clear whether a generic item will be accepted or if a branded item is required • make clear whether an item can only be purchased from a specific retailer or if it can be purchased more widely, including from second-hand retailers 		New Section
Ofsted Reports:	You must publish either a copy of your school's most recent Ofsted report or a link to the report on the Ofsted website.

Exam and Assessment Results Key stage 4 and 16 to 18 performance measures will be published by the Secretary of State for the 2021 to 2022 academic year. For key stage 4 and 16 to 18 results, you should update your website to include the latest measures which, once published, will be based on tests, exams and assessments from the 2021 to 2022 academic year. Alongside your key stage 4 and 16 to 18 results, you may wish to add the following sentence: “Given the uneven impact of the pandemic on school and college performance data, the government has said you should not make direct comparisons between the performance data for one school or college and another, or to data from previous years.”
Key Stage 2 (end of primary school) results You do not need to publish your key stage 2 results for the academic year 2021 to 2022 on your website, as the Secretary of State will not publish this data. This is because statutory assessments returned for the first time since 2019, without adaptations, after disruption caused by the pandemic. You should continue to display your school’s most recent key stage 2 performance measures, as published by the Secretary of State, on your website. For most schools, these will be the performance measures published for the 2018 to 2019 academic year. You should clearly mark that these performance measures are for the 2018 to 2019 academic year and are not current. For example, you could add the following sentence to your results: “The government will not publish KS2 school level data for the 2021 to 2022 academic year. They have archived data from the 2018 to 2019 academic year because they recognise that the data from that year may no longer reflect current performance.”
Key Stage 4 (end of secondary school) results You should publish the following details from your school’s most recent key stage 4 performance measures, as published by the Secretary of State. For most schools, once published, these will be the performance measures for the 2021 to 2022 academic year <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Progress 8 score • Attainment in English and maths - percentage of pupils achieving a grade 5 or above in GCSE English and maths • Attainment 8 score • English Baccalaureate (EBacc) average point score (APS) We suggest that schools also publish: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the percentage of pupils that enter the English Baccalaureate (EBacc), and • the percentage of pupils staying in education or going into employment after key stage 4 (pupil destinations) 		This has been added These moved from the “Should Publish” to “Suggest you publish”

Curriculum: You should publish	The content of the curriculum your school follows in each academic year for every subject, including for mandatory subjects such as Religious Education, even if it's taught as part of another subject or subjects or is called something else
	Following Words Changed Your approach to the curriculum should also include how you are complying with your duties in the Equality Act 2010 and the Special Educational Needs and Disability Regulations 2014 about making the curriculum accessible for those with disabilities or special educational needs To You must also set out how over time you will increase the extent to which disabled pupils participate in the school's curriculum, as part of your school's accessibility plan. There are more details in the special educational needs and disabilities section .		Wording changed to "over time"
	How parents or other members of the public can find out more about the curriculum your school is following
	How you meet the 16 to 19 study programme requirements (if you have a sixth form or offer education at 16 to 19)
	Depending on what phase of education your school offers, we recommend you also publish any of the following that apply to your school:
	• The names of any phonics or reading schemes you are using in key stage 1
	• A list of the courses available to pupils at key stage 4, including GCSEs
	• The 16 to 19 qualifications you offer
Remote education	You should publish information about your school's remote education provision on your website. An optional template is available to support schools with this requirement.		Word changed from Must to should
Behaviour policy	Academies should publish details of the school's behaviour policy, including their anti-bullying strategy. Read guidance on developing and publishing your school's behaviour policy . It's good practice for FE colleges to also publish this information.

Pupil premium	All schools that receive pupil premium funding must publish a pupil premium strategy statement each year by 31 December. In the strategy statement, you must explain how your pupil premium and recovery premium is being spent and the outcomes that are being achieved for pupils. It's important that parents and trustees understand this, and you should write it with them in mind. You must use the DfE template to produce your statement. This can be found alongside completed examples and guidance for school leaders on the pupil premium guidance page. The template has been designed to ensure that your statement reflects the requirements in the pupil premium conditions of grant. This includes a requirement for pupil premium and recovery premium to be spent in line with the department's 'menu of approaches' from the start of the 2022 to 2023 academic year. The menu can be found in the document 'Using pupil premium: guidance for school leaders', on the pupil premium guidance page. We recommend that you plan your pupil premium use over 3 years. If you do so, you are still required to update your statement each year to reflect your spending activity for that academic year and the impact of pupil premium in the previous academic year.		Wording Changed
PE and sport premium for primary schools You must publish all the information in this section by the end of the summer term, or 31 July at the latest. This is outlined in the conditions of grant document. To help plan, monitor and report on the impact of your spending, partners in the physical education and school sport sector have developed a template. The template can be accessed through the Association for PE and Youth Sport Trust websites.	If your school receives PE and sport premium funding, your grant funding agreement will explain what information you must publish. It's likely that you'll have to include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> the amount of premium received a full breakdown of how it has been spent (or will be spent) what impact the school has seen on pupils' PE and sport participation and attainment how the improvements will be sustainable in the future you are also required to publish the percentage of pupils within your year 6 cohort who met the national curriculum requirement to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> swim competently, confidently, and proficiently over a distance of at least 25 metres use a range of strokes effectively (for example front crawl, backstroke, and breaststroke) perform safe self-rescue in different water-based situations

6.79 The governing bodies of maintained schools and maintained nursery schools and the proprietors of academy schools must publish information on their websites about the implementation of the governing body's or the proprietor's policy for pupils with SEN. The information published should be updated annually and any changes to the information occurring during the year should be updated as soon as possible. The information required is set out in the Special Educational Needs and Disability. Regulations 2014 and must include information about:

1. the kinds of SEN that are provided for
2. policies for identifying children and young people with SEN and assessing their needs, including the name and contact details of the SENCo (mainstream schools)
3. arrangements for consulting parents of children with SEN and involving them in their child's education
4. arrangements for consulting young people with SEN and involving them in their education
5. arrangements for assessing and reviewing children and young people's progress towards outcomes. This should include the opportunities available to work with parents and young people as part of this assessment and review
6. arrangements for supporting children and young people in moving between phases of education and in preparing for adulthood. As young people prepare for adulthood outcomes should reflect their ambitions, which could include higher education, employment, independent living and participation in society
7. the approach to teaching children and young people with SEN
8. how adaptations are made to the curriculum and the learning environment of children and young people with SEN
9. the expertise and training of staff to support children and young people with SEN, including how specialist expertise will be secured
10. evaluating the effectiveness of the provision made for children and young people with SEN
11. how children and young people with SEN are enabled to engage in activities available with children and young people in the school who do not have SEN
12. support for improving emotional and social development. This should include extra pastoral support arrangements for listening to the views of children and young people with SEN and measures to prevent bullying
13. how the school involves other bodies, including health and social care bodies, local authority support services and voluntary sector organisations, in meeting children and young people's SEN and supporting their families
14. arrangements for handling complaints from parents of children with SEN about the provision made at the school

6.80 The above should include arrangements for supporting children and young people who are looked after by the local authority and have SEN.

6.81 Schools should ensure that the information is easily accessible by young people and parents and is set out in clear, straightforward language. It should include information on the school's SEN policy and named contacts within the school for situations where young people or parents have concerns. It should also give details of the school's contribution to the Local Offer and must include information on where the local authority's Local Offer is published.

6.82 In setting out details of the broad and balanced curriculum provided in each year, schools should include details of how the curriculum is adapted or made accessible for pupils with SEN.

6.83 Schools should also make data on the levels and types of need within the school available to the local authority. This data will be required to inform local strategic planning of SEN support, and to enable the local authority to identify pupils who have or may have SEN. Such data, collected through the School Census, is also required to produce the national SEN information report.
