Careers Guidance	Music helps you to develop a variety of skills such as analysis, dedication, group skills, self-confidence and self-reliance, as well as providing a means of artistic expression and relaxation. Plus, it stretches your imagination and playing an instrument also makes you think and react quickly. Skills such as these are not just prized within music careers; they are valuable to all types of employers. Music is a highly regarded academic subject and whether you take it with a view to a career in music or as an additional A-level subject, it is held in high esteem by universities and other institutions of higher education. Most people, however, study Music because they love it and you will have plenty of practical opportunities to develop your talents. This qualification supports progression into higher education, training or employment, such as a degree in music or vocational courses such as a BTEC HND or HNC in Music.
