

St Mary's Sightseeing Sofa Tours

Want to visit the zoo but you're trapped in the house? We're here to help! Social distancing doesn't mean you can't explore the world. Check out these live webcams of some pretty cool stuff from across the global ... just take a seat! Click on all the bits of text that are highlighted in blue!

First stop - one of the most famous zoos in the world - San Diego Zoo

Watch live views of baboons, penguins, polar bears, apes, koalas, giraffes, burrowing owls, elephants, tigers, and condors. The penguins are a personal favourite!

Back on the bus everyone. Right next is the Monterey Bay Aquarium

The aquarium has sea otters, jellyfish, sharks ... oh and more penguins!

Another bus trip, now to Minnesota State Park

Here you can see a pair of American bald eagles looking after their fledgelings. Very noble, very maternal but not actually bald!?

Right, everyone, through passport security we're off to South Africa for a Safari

While I was writing this I saw a lion, giraffe and some sort of rabbit (a desert rabbit?), what did you see today! No penguins this time, unfortunately.

I might have planned this tour poorly, we're going back to the USA - Hawaii

Let the calm ocean waves and wind bring out your inner surfer and chill. During the morning you can often see people surfing the pipeline.

Another flight, no time for duty-free shopping, but let's see what one of the busiest places in the world looks like right now - Tokyo, Japan

I've always wanted to visit Japan. While I've never been I do think Shibuya Crossing is usually busier than we're seeing right now. Looks like they're socially distancing too.

Finally, I've pulled out all the stops here. One rocket to the International Space Station, please.

From up here, you can see the entire northern hemisphere in 1½ hours! You can find your own way home from here, right? Oh and no refunds!

Hope you enjoyed your trip!

From all the Geography staff.