

St Mary's Catholic School

Key Stage 5 – Bridging Course for Year 11

Department: French What is the focus of this bridging course? Students will review and consolidate previously studied grammar and vocabulary to give them a strong foundation to build on for their future study of French Students will be introduced to one of the A Level topics (La famille) and will complete A Level style activities based on this topic Students will be introduced to the skills required for success in A Level French and will have the opportunity to practise and develop these skills. Students will beint toduced to the skills required for success in A Level French and will have the opportunity to practise and develop these skills. Students will beint advected to the skills required for success in A Level French and will have the opportunity to practise and develop these skills. Students will beint advected to the skills required for success in A Level French and will have the opportunity to practise and develop these skills. Students will beint advected to the skills required for success in Au Level Topic of the A-level in French. Students will self-assess their existing grammar knowledge by completing a grammar audit and engaging in independent research and online practice in any areas requiring improvement. Following this, students will complete a booklet of grammar exercises. Students will beint to learn new vocabulary from the A Level topic of La famille (to be students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the other A Level topics Students will beint to learn advecting skills (gap fill, synonyms, summaries and comprehension) required at A Level French		Overview of Bridging Course
 Students will review and consolidate previously studied grammar and vacabulary to give them a strong foundation to build on for their future study of French. Students will be introduced to one of the A Level topics (La familie) and will complete A Level style activities based on this topic Students will be introduced to the skills required for success in A Level French and will have the opportunity to practise and develop these skills. Students will be pint odevelop their appreciation of French-speaking culture by conducting their own research into French film, music and literature w/b 27 Overview of what students will cover this week: Students will earn about what the course entails, and the different aspects of the A-level in French. Students will self-assess their existing grammar knowledge by completing a grammar audit and engaging in independent research and online practice in any areas requiring improvement. Following this, students will complete a booklet of grammar exercises. Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La familie (to be studied in greater detail in subsequent weeks) Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La familie and test themselves on their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the other A Level topics Students will earn about the different research on French through the continue to listen to. Students will earn about the different listening skills (true/false/not mentioned, summaries and comprehension) required at A Level French through the study of the topic of La Familie. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. Students will earn about the different listening skills (true/false/not mentioned, summaries and comprehension) required at A Level French t	• build on for their future study of French Students will be introduced to one of the A Level topics (La famille) and will complete A Level style activities based on this topic Students will be introduced to the skills required for success in A Level French and will have the opportunity to practise and develop these skills. Students will begin to develop their appreciation of French-speaking culture by conducting their own research into French film, music and iterature Wb 27 Overview of what students will cover this week: Students will self-assess their existing grammar knowledge by completing a grammar audit and engaging in independent research and online practice in any areas requiring improvement. Following this, students will complete a booklet of grammar exercises. Students will begin to learn new vocabulary required for the A Level topic of La famille (to be studied in greater detail in subsequent weeks) Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the other A Level topics Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of ta suggested websites and produce a paragraph detailing some artists they like and intend to continue to listen to. Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop there skills. Students will learn about the different tresearch on French music using the suggested websites and produce a paragraph detailing some artists they like and intend to continue to listen to. Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the other A Level topics Students will learn about the different tisten on this topic Students will be introduced to the skills required for success in A Level French and will have the opportunity to practise and develop these skills. Students will begin to develop their appreciation of French-speaking culture by conducting their own research into French film, music and ilterature w/b 27 Overview of what students will cover this week: April Students will learn about what the course entails, and the different aspects of the A-level in French. Students will self-assess their existing grammar knowledge by completing a grammar audit and engaging in independent research and online practice in any areas requiring improvement. Following this, students will complete a booklet of grammar exercises. Students will begin to learn new vocabulary required for the A Level topic of La famille (to be studied in greater detail in subsequent weeks) Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the other A Level topics Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La Famille. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. Students will learn about the different reading skills (gap fill, synonyms, summaries and comprehension) required at A Level French through the study of the topic of La Famille. Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the other A Level topics Students will learn about the different listening skills (true/false/not mentioned, summaries and comprehension) required at A Level French through the study of the topic of La Famille. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. Students will lear Students will be introduced to the skills required for success in A Level French and will have the opportunity to practise and develop these skills. Students will begin to develop their appreciation of French-speaking culture by conducting their own research into French film, music and literature W/b 27 Overview of what students will cover this week: Students will learn about what the course entails, and the different aspects of the A-level in French. Students will self-assess their existing grammar knowledge by completing a grammar audit and engaging in independent research and online practice in any areas requiring improvement. Following this, students will complete a booklet of grammar exercises. Students will begin to learn new vocabulary required for the A Level topic of La famille (to be studied in grater detail in subsequent weeks) Students will continue to review vocabulary required for the topic of La famille. Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La Famille. Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La Famille. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La Famille. Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La Famille. Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La Famille. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La Famille. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La Famille. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. Students will continue to sup Students will begin to develop their appreciation of French-speaking culture by conducting their own research into French film, music and literature W/b 27 Overview of what students will cover this week: Students will learn about what the course entails, and the different aspects of the A-level in French. Students will self-assess their existing grammar knowledge by completing a grammar audit and engaging in independent research and online practice in any areas requiring improvement. Following this, students will complete a booklet of grammar exercises. Students will begin to learn new vocabulary required for the A Level topic of La famille (to be studied in greater detail in subsequent weeks) Students will watch a French film to get a sense of French cinema produce a review of the film using vocabulary and structures provided. % Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the other A Level topics Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. Students will engage in independent research on French music using the suggested websites and produce a paragraph detailing some artists they like and intend to continue to listen to. % Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. Students will enarn about the different listening skills (true/false/not metioned, summaries and comprehension) required at A Level French through the continue do set the Level topics % Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. Students will enarn about the different listening skills (true/false/not metioned, summaries and comprehension) required at A Level French through the continued study of the topic of La Famille. Students will selet	• St	udents will be introduced to the skills required for success in A Level French and will have the opportunity to w/b 27 Overview of what students will cover this week: April • Students will learn about what the course entails, and the different aspects of the A-level in French. • Students will self-assess their existing grammar knowledge by completing a grammar audit and engaging in independent research and online practice in any areas requiring improvement. Following this, students will complete a booklet of grammar exercises. • Students will begin to learn new vocabulary required for the A Level topic of La famille (to be studied in greater detail in subsequent weeks) • Students will continue to review vocabulary required for the A Level topic of La famille (to be studied in greater detail in subsequent weeks) • Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the other A Level topics • Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. • Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La Famille. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. • Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La Famille. Students will and the weeks on their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the topic of La Famille. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. • Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. • Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. • Students will sel	• St	udents will begin to develop their appreciation of French-speaking culture by conducting their own research into April Students will learn about what the course entails, and the different aspects of the A-level in French. Students will self-assess their existing grammar knowledge by completing a grammar audit and engaging in independent research and online practice in any areas requiring improvement. Following this, students will complete a booklet of grammar exercises. Students will begin to learn new vocabulary required for the A Level topic of La famille (to be studied in greater detail in subsequent weeks) Students will watch a French film to get a sense of French cinema produce a review of the film using vocabulary and structures provided. W/b 4 Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the other A Level topics Students will learn about the different reading skills (gap fill, synonyms, summaries and comprehension) required at A Level French through the study of the topic of La famille. Students will complete a paragraph detailing some artists they like and intend to continue to listen to. W/b 11 Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the other A Level lopics Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the other A Level lopics Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. Students will complete a ta Level French through the continue dudy of the topic of La famille. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. Students will self-a book that they intend to read over the summer holiadys (even in its English translation) from engaging in independent research and online practice in any areas requiring improvement. Following this, students will complete a booklet of grammar exercises. Students will begin to learn new vocabulary required for the A Level topic of La famille (to be studied in greater detail in subsequent weeks) Students will watch a French film to get a sense of French cinema produce a review of the film using vocabulary and structures provided. w/b 4 Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the other A Level topics Students will learn about the different reading skills (gap fill, synonyms, summaries and comprehension) required at A Level French through the study of the topic of La Famille. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the other A Level topics Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the other A Level topics Students will learn about the different listening skills (true/false/not mentioned, summaries and comprehension) required at A Level French through the continued study of the topic of La famille. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. Students will learn about the different listening skills (true/false/not mentioned, summaries and comprehension) required at A Level French through the continued study of the topic of La famille. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. Students will begin to learn common A Level complex vocabulary which is often used i	-	• Students will learn about what the course entails, and the different aspects of the A-level in studied in greater detail in subsequent weeks) Students will watch a French film to get a sense of French cinema produce a review of the film using vocabulary and structures provided. W/b 4 Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the other A Level topics Students will learn about the different reading skills (gap fill, synonyms, summaries and comprehension) required at A Level French through the study of the topic of La Famille. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. Students will engage in independent research on French music using the suggested websites and produce a paragraph detailing some artists they like and intend to continue to listen to. w/b 11 Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the other A Level topics Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the other A Level topics Students will learn about the different listening skills (true/false/not mentioned, summaries and comprehension) required at A Level French through the continued study of the topic of La Famille. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. Students will select a book that they intend to read over the summer holidays (even in its English translation) from the suggested reading list. Students will research the author, themes and characters in the book. Students should make a start on reading this book and keep notes of new vocabulary they have learnt and a summary of the story. M/b 18 Students will begin to learn common A Level complex v		engaging in independent research and online practice in any areas requiring improvement. Following this, students will complete a booklet of grammar exercises.
using vocabulary and structures provided.w/b 4Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the other A Level topicsStudents will continue to review vocabulary from the study of the topic of La Famille. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills.Students will engage in independent research on French music using the suggested websites and produce a paragraph detailing some artists they like and intend to continue to listen to.W/b 11Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on May their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the other A Level topics Students will learn about the different reading skills (gap fill, synonyms, summaries and comprehension) required at A Level French through the study of the topic of La Famille. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. Students will engage in independent research on French music using the suggested websites and produce a paragraph detailing some artists they like and intend to continue to listen to. w/b 11 Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the other A Level topics Students will learn about the different listening skills (true/false/not mentioned, summaries and comprehension) required at A Level French through the continued study of the topic of La Famille. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. Students will select a book that they intend to read over the summer holidays (even in its English translation) from the suggested reading list. Students will research the author, themes and characters in the book. Students should make a start on reading this book and keep notes of new vocabulary they have learnt and a summary of the story. W/b 18 Students will learn how to approach translation from French into English and from English into French. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop this skill and will complete a final translation piece Students will produce a video presentation on Fligrid about what films and music they have enjoyed discovering Students will produce an extended piece of writing introducing themselves to their new A Level French teacher. Guidance will be provided on the exact content of this letter. Work that will s
May their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the other A Level topics Students will learn about the different reading skills (gap fill, synonyms, summaries and comprehension) required at A Level French through the study of the topic of La Famille. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. Students will engage in independent research on French music using the suggested websites and produce a paragraph detailing some artists they like and intend to continue to listen to. W/b 11 Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the other A Level topics Students will carn about the different listening skills (true/false/not mentioned, summaries and comprehension) required at A Level French through the continued study of the topic of La Famille. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. Students will select a book that they intend to read over the summer holidays (even in its English translation) from the suggested reading list. Students will research the author, themes and characters in the book. Students should make a start on reading this book and keep notes of new vocabulary they have learnt and a summary of the story. W/b 18 Students will learn how to approach translation from French into English and from English into French. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop this skill and will complete a final translation piece Students will produce a video presentation on Fligrid about what films and music they have enjoyed discovering <td< td=""><td>w/b 4</td><td>• Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on</td></td<>	w/b 4	• Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on comprehension) required at A Level French through the study of the topic of La Famille. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. Students will engage in independent research on French music using the suggested websites and produce a paragraph detailing some artists they like and intend to continue to listen to. W/b 11 Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the other A Level topics Students will learn about the different listening skills (true/false/not mentioned, summaries and comprehension) required at A Level French through the continued study of the topic of La Famille. Students will select a book that they intend to read over the summer holidays (even in its English translation) from the suggested reading list. Students will research the author, themes and characters in the book. Students should make a start on reading this book and keep notes of new vocabulary they have learnt and a summary of the story. W/b 18 Students will begin to learn common A Level complex vocabulary which is often used in translation Students will produce a video presentation on Fligrid about what films and music they have enjoyed discovering Students will produce an extended piece of writing introducing themselves to their new A Level French Educk on: Grammar workbook 	Мау
 Students will engage in independent research on French music using the suggested websites and produce a paragraph detailing some artists they like and intend to continue to listen to. w/b 11 Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the other A Level topics Students will learn about the different listening skills (true/false/not mentioned, summaries and comprehension) required at A Level French through the continued study of the topic of La Famille. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. Students will select a book that they intend to read over the summer holidays (even in its English translation) from the suggested reading list. Students will research the author, themes and characters in the book. Students should make a start on reading this book and keep notes of new vocabulary they have learnt and a summary of the story. w/b 18 Students will learn how to approach translation from French into English and from English into French. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop this skill and will complete a final translation piece Students will produce a video presentation on Fligrid about what films and music they have enjoyed discovering Students will produce an extended piece of writing introducing themselves to their new A Level French teacher. Guidance will be provided on the exact content of this letter. Work that will students will receive feedback on: Grammar workbook 		• Students will learn about the different reading skills (gap fill, synonyms, summaries and comprehension) required at A Level French through the study of the topic of La Famille. Students
 w/b 11 Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on their knowledge. Students may choose to learn vocabulary from the other A Level topics Students will learn about the different listening skills (true/false/not mentioned, summaries and comprehension) required at A Level French through the continued study of the topic of La Famille. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. Students will select a book that they intend to read over the summer holidays (even in its English translation) from the suggested reading list. Students will research the author, themes and characters in the book. Students should make a start on reading this book and keep notes of new vocabulary they have learnt and a summary of the story. W/b 18 Students will learn how to approach translation from French into English and from English into French. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop this skill and will complete a final translation piece Students will produce a video presentation on Fligrid about what films and music they have enjoyed discovering Students will produce an extended piece of writing introducing themselves to their new A Level French teacher. Guidance will be provided on the exact content of this letter. Work that will students will receive feedback on: 		• Students will engage in independent research on French music using the suggested websites comprehension) required at A Level French through the continued study of the topic of La Famille. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop these skills. Students will select a book that they intend to read over the summer holidays (even in its English translation) from the suggested reading list. Students will research the author, themes and characters in the book. Students should make a start on reading this book and keep notes of new vocabulary they have learnt and a summary of the story. w/b 18 Students will begin to learn common A Level complex vocabulary which is often used in translation Students will learn how to approach translation from French into English and from English into French. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop this skill and will complete a final translation piece Students will produce a video presentation on Fligrid about what films and music they have enjoyed discovering Students will produce an extended piece of writing introducing themselves to their new A Level French teacher. Guidance will be provided on the exact content of this letter. 	-	Students will continue to review vocabulary from the topic of La famille and test themselves on Students will select a book that they intend to read over the summer holidays (even in its English translation) from the suggested reading list. Students will research the author, themes and characters in the book. Students should make a start on reading this book and keep notes of new vocabulary they have learnt and a summary of the story. w/b 18 Students will begin to learn common A Level complex vocabulary which is often used in translation Students will learn how to approach translation from French into English and from English into French. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop this skill and will complete a final translation piece Students will produce a video presentation on Fligrid about what films and music they have enjoyed discovering Students will produce an extended piece of writing introducing themselves to their new A Level French teacher. Guidance will be provided on the exact content of this letter. 		comprehension) required at A Level French through the continued study of the topic of La
 May translation Students will learn how to approach translation from French into English and from English into French. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop this skill and will complete a final translation piece Students will produce a video presentation on Fligrid about what films and music they have enjoyed discovering Students will produce an extended piece of writing introducing themselves to their new A Level French teacher. Guidance will be provided on the exact content of this letter. Work that will students will receive feedback on: Grammar workbook 		• Students will select a book that they intend to read over the summer holidays (even in its English translation) from the suggested reading list. Students will research the author, themes and characters in the book. Students should make a start on reading this book and keep notes of French. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop this skill and will complete a final translation piece Students will produce a video presentation on Fligrid about what films and music they have enjoyed discovering Students will produce an extended piece of writing introducing themselves to their new A Level French teacher. Guidance will be provided on the exact content of this letter. Work that will students will receive feedback on: Grammar workbook
 Students will produce a video presentation on Fligrid about what films and music they have enjoyed discovering Students will produce an extended piece of writing introducing themselves to their new A Level French teacher. Guidance will be provided on the exact content of this letter. Work that will students will receive feedback on: Grammar workbook 		French. Students will complete a series of activities to practise and develop this skill and will Students will produce an extended piece of writing introducing themselves to their new A Level French teacher. Guidance will be provided on the exact content of this letter. Work that will students will receive feedback on: Grammar workbook 		Students will produce a video presentation on Fligrid about what films and music they have
Work that will students will receive feedback on: Grammar workbook 		Students will produce an extended piece of writing introducing themselves to their new A t will students will receive feedback on:

- Film review
- Reading and listening activities
- Flipgrid presentation
- Final translation piece and letter of introduction to your teacher detailed feedback will be given on these