

St Mary's Drama Department
National theatre Online Library

This year we have access to the National Theatre Library where there are lots of recordings of live productions performed at the National Theatre in London.

Watching live theatre is a brilliant way of improving your knowledge of what makes a good performance and this will have huge benefits back in the classroom when devising performance work or approaching a scripted performance.

For KS4 and KS5 students I recommend you take notes when watching a production as this will help you back in the classroom when devising your own theatre and with exam preparation for the live theatre evaluation and analysis questions.

Miss Stearman recommends:

- One Man Two Governors
- -The Importance of Being Earnest
- A Streetcar Named Desire
- Treasure Island
- Yerma

However there are lots of others; see what takes your fancy!
