Newsletter

Happy New Year and welcome to our first newsletter of 2024.

In the world of Careers, the Spring term is a busy one with National Apprenticeship week (5-11th Feb), National Careers week (4-9th March) and in Newcastle the My future: My choice Careers Fair at St. James Park on the 30th January (see more in the article below). Though many young people don't realise it, the spring term should be busy for them, making applications if they are leaving school. Many apprenticeships starting in September will have closing dates before February half term. Increasingly Colleges and training providers are reporting that their courses fill up quickly and some think they could be full by Easter, again for September starts. So, the message is, young people need to be planning ahead and making decisions about what they want to do.

We know some young people need help and support with their career planning and the Careers team are here to give advice and guidance – just drop us an email or call, see the contact details box on this newsletter as to how to do this. We realise the city centre can be difficult (and expensive) for young people to get to which is why we are establishing more bases across the city, so from January our offer will include sessions at the Charlton Street Hub in Lemington. There are details below as to how to refer young people there.

Whether you are a school or a community group – if you have a group of young people who you feel would benefit from some advice or information about careers, jobs and what's available in education and training please get in touch and we would love to come and meet them.

Careers Team Events

My future: My choice 2024 - 30th January

Our second citywide Careers Fair takes place at St James Park on the 30th January. It is bigger and has more exhibitors than last year and is now on 4 floors of the stadium! To see a full list of exhibitors, please visit our website www.newcastlecareers.org.uk.

Schools are booked in for the daytime sessions but between 3.30-5.30pm parents, professionals, 6th formers, college students and young people who are NEET can come along and meet employers, Colleges, apprenticeship and training providers. Booking a place is easy and can be done by following the link tinyurl.com/MfMcEvent.

Our employers cover all the major sectors – engineering, construction, hospitality, catering, the creative sector, health to name but a few. If you want to find out about opportunities available locally and more widely this is an ideal chance with everyone under one roof.

Our education providers cover the full academic range from Oxford University to local training and support organisations, with many specialist providers including the National Race Horse college and the Northern School of Art.

For those with SEN and additional needs there is a dedicated SEN Zone on level 6 with specialist education and training providers and information on additional support available.

This event is being supported by the Newcastle Foundation, Newcastle College, Robertson's and Creative Central NCL and we are very thankful for their contributions.

Do come along and encourage people who may benefit to sign up and see what's on offer. We really hope to see you at St. James' Park on the 30th January.

Charlton Street Community Hub, Lemington

On Tuesday afternoons from the 9th January you will now find a member of the Careers team at Charlton Street. We are offering appointments and a drop in. To make a referral please email careersteam@newcastle.gov.uk or book via Eventbrite.

We are hoping that for young people in the outer west it will make accessing the service much easier.

Opportunities

Together, we deliver the projects that change people lives.

Whether we are delivering small scale improvements or a major project, Taylor Woodrow's success is founded on the teams that we build, the relationships we develop and the engineering solutions that we provide.

Taylor Woodrow is working with Newcastle City Council to transform the city into a greener place to drive towards Net Zero. Our social value team are looking forward to building new relationships in the North-East and can offer:

- Site visits, Supporting World of Work events and careers.
- Employability skills (CV writing and interview skills)
- Story telling sessions 'Hazards of playing on a construction site'.
- STEM Activities – Mini Beast Mansions, road sign/machine naming competitions

TEEP

TEEP and the TURING scheme.

The Turing Scheme provides funding for those individuals undertaking education and training in the UK to go on and study or access work placements across the world.

This funding allows organisations to provide students with the chance to develop new skills, gain vital international experience and help contribute to the UK Government's commitment to a Global Britain, by helping organisations forge new relationships around the world.

We offer end to end project planning to help organisations identify the right projects for them, define objectives, make sure that funding is approved and take care of all project work with our team of experts, making the process streamlined and pain free. From initial consultation to execution, we will collaborate closely to ensure the project is relevant and valuable for your organisation and partners.

This is always at no cost for the organisation or school.

Dads Service

Barnardo's Dads Service, Next Steps - Dads Champions Recruitment

Barnardo's are moving to the next stages of the development of a vision to work towards Newcastle becoming a city of inclusion for Fathers. We are now looking to recruit professional 'Dads Champions' from services citywide.

Being a 'Dads Champion' is not so much of a task, but more of an approach within the service you deliver to ensure Dads are seen, heard, supported, and can sustain engagement with you and your team. We refer to this as the 'Think Dad' vision.

We will be working with our Champions to think about how their service engages Dads, and what provision you offer to ensure they are accessible and inclusive for Fathers. We will also explore assessment tools, and how curious questions can give us more information and connections (with consent). We will look at embedding monitoring tools to keep track of Dads who access services to ensure they don't become hidden or invisible.

As a Champion you will have the 'Think Dad' agenda at the forefront of what you do. You can share this learning with your colleagues and cascade it throughout your teams to ensure a standardised service wide offer.

We can look at modifying service assessment and monitoring tools to help you and your colleagues ask the right questions. We can, as a team, support each other to see what is working well, what could be better and make plans to ensure best practise going forward.

This is an exciting opportunity to be part of a big change, a Citywide concept of 'Father Inclusive Practice' where professionals across the board will have the knowledge and tools to ensure families are considered as a whole.

This way of working will help us further in our strive for better outcomes for babies, young people and their family networks.

WORK EXPERIENCE AT NORTHERN STAGE

Our Work Experience is for anyone aged 14-18 looking to gain an insight into the backstage roles in a theatre. It is one intensive week, with a focus on technical and production.

Participants will be introduced to light, sound, special effects and stage management. They will get the chance to try out different backstage roles in our professional theatre space and will work together to design and produce their own technical installation, which is showcased at the end of the week.

Participants work in groups of 15-20 people from across the North East. The week includes:

- Introduction to lighting including; learning how lights work, rigging them, adding colour, focusing and programme them into the lighting desk.
- Introduction to sound including; setting up a sound system, sound effects, and using the software.
- Introduction to stage management including: marking out; prop making; preparing the book; calling the show.
- Counterweight flying system, masking, operating pyrotechnics, health and safety.

Whilst we attract lots of young people already engaged in theatre it's our mission to attract those who haven't even set foot inside a theatre. If you have students who are good at problem solving, technically minded, work well to deadlines or under pressure, are organized and enjoy learning through doing, then they'll get so much from this week (it's also lots of fun and we won an award for it in 2019!)

Applications are now open for our 2024 Work Experience weeks, which will take place from 8-12th July and 15-19th July. To apply, simply head to our Work Experience page at <https://northernstage.co.uk/taking-part/work-experience/> and fill in the application form. Applications will close on 16th February. For more information email us at workexperience@northernstage.co.uk.

TEACHER TASTER NIGHT

Want to find out how our Work Experience programme could benefit your students? Come along to our taster event on 18th January! You'll be able to hear from Northern Stage's technical team, ask questions and even have a go at some of the practical tasks!

There will also be talks from other cultural venues in the region including: The Glasshouse; Live Theatre; Tyne & Wear Archives & Museums and Centre for Life, who will share details about their work experience programmes. The event is open to all teachers, regardless of your subject area. To register for the event please sign up on this link.

Northern Stage

Culture Club at Northern Stage!

WHEN: Tuesdays (5.30-7pm) during term time, plus additional dates to watch performances.

WHERE: Northern Stage

This is the place to meet friends, watch theatre, and make content. Each month, you will attend Press Night of a theatre show at Northern Stage, you'll discuss it with each other, and then you'll respond to it on TikTok, YouTube, or in a Zine working with professional content creators. Whether you're keen to be in front of the camera, or you prefer to take a role behind the scenes, Culture Club is the place to make content about culture and share it with the world.

Tech Club at Northern Stage!

WHEN: Saturdays (10-1) during term time - WHERE: Northern Stage

Tech Club is a fun introduction to the world of technical theatre. You will be introduced to light, sound, special effects, and stage management. You'll get the chance to try out different backstage roles in our professional theatre space. You will work together to design and produce your own technical installations. If you're curious about what goes on behind the scenes in a theatre, but don't know where to start, this is the perfect opportunity to start exploring.

Young Directors at Northern Stage!

WHEN: Mondays (5-8pm) during term time, plus additional dates to watch performances.

WHERE: Northern Stage

Young Directors is an introduction to the craft of directing live performance. You'll be introduced to professional Directors, who'll share their unique approaches. You'll learn about the essentials of directing live performance, from working with actors to playing with text. This is ideal for anyone aged 14-19 with no previous directing experience.

Clubs are for 14-19 year olds, there are free places available and travel bursaries available too. To join any of these clubs visit www.northernstage.co.uk/taking-part or email takepart@northernstage.co.uk for more information.
