The parable of the prodigal son.

Today Ella H, Fred and I performed the parable of the lost Son. The father forgave his son for spending all his money. The son was so sorry he even offered to feed the pigs. God is like the father, he forgives everyone who is sorry. The eldest son was harsh on his brother and Jesus tells us to be more like the father, generous in forgiveness.

A very moving production.

Dear God,

Today I have seen and heard from a man that was German. He said that he was a person that <sup>concentration</sup> guard who wanted my forgiveness. I felt betrayed angry and I just couldn't forgive or trust him. Suddenly, I remembered that I had taught people to forgive others. Your forgiveness had helped me to understand that people are here to live a lovely life. Thank you for your strength and communication that helped me to stay ok. You are there here to stay strong and forgive.

Amen.

What an emotional prayer - very well written

Reform and Rehabilitation

whoops Rehabilitation is the interogation of criminals (Who have been put in prison) back into society.

A super representation of the life of Elizabeth Fry (18p)
