Job Description - Caring for the elderly

This person must be able to listen and be able to make old people happy. They will be able to make sure nobody is left out. They have to be kind. They should know that the elderly is always right. They'll have to be calm too. They will have to be prepared to act like a parent for them, so they'll need a lot of practice to take care of the elderly!

Oh how some super advice Adam - I like the bit about the elderly always being right!

DON'T SMOKE

Every time you take a puff on a cigarette, it takes 11 minutes - of adnerage - away from your life, so bin the bad stuff! Your lungs will go yellow and that can damage your body and if somebody offers you a cigarette, don't say: "well, ok then it's only one." because smoking is too addictive. Say "No!"

Our Mission

Is to stop everyone who hasn't started smoking yet (too late for those that already are) we need to start healthy and over 7,000 people die of smoking every year.

Some super information Adams
