How you can support your child

What should your child be doing?

How long until exams start?

Who do I contact?

When will exams be finished?

Term 4 Update

As your child is getting very close to starting the main exam season, we will be sending you regular updates and tips on ways to support your child through this crucial time.

Please be aware that all students need to currently be available until the 24th June due to the exam boards contingency ruling.

7 school weeks until exams start!
