School report

Cardinal Wiseman Catholic Technology College

Old Oscott Hill, Kingstanding, Birmingham, West Midlands B44 9SR

Inspection dates

21–22 September 2016

Overall effectiveness	Good
Effectiveness of leadership and management	Good
Quality of teaching, learning and assessment	Good
Personal development, behaviour and welfare	Good
Outcomes for pupils	Good

The school was graded as “good” in four areas: effectiveness of leadership and management; quality of teaching learning and assessment; personal development, behaviour and welfare; and outcomes for students.

Effectiveness of leadership and management

We think this means that Mrs. Stewardson and the assistant headteachers are good at managing pupils and at telling the teachers how to effectively teach the students.

Quality of teaching, learning and assessment

We think this means that the teachers are good at what they do – teaching. They know when a student is doing well. If a student is not making as much progress as they should, then the teachers try their best to help the students improve.

Personal development, behaviour and welfare

Our school encourages students to improve, not just in their academia, but also in their social life. Students are encouraged to take leadership roles such as: school council, chaplaincy and being a librarian.

We think behaviour at the school is good; teachers are strict. Dr. Bevan is the strictest ... but he is still nice.

Students are looked after well at the school. We feel safe. We are taught how to be safe not only in school, but outside of school as well.

Outcomes for students

We think this means that students do well! When Year 11 leave, they leave their GCSEs and have many doors open to them to help them to be successful in the future.

To conclude, we know that our school is an amazing school ... but finally Ofsted have recognised it as well.

Cardinal Wiseman is a good school!

Officially.

Good.
