

Science Year 5

Week 1

- Please find a copy of the knowledge organiser for Properties of Materials. This provides a summary of information that students know for the topic along with a couple of useful websites which they can use for revision.
- Chemical creations allow students to do some independent research on a scientist . The worksheet details some points they should include.
- Materials and properties worksheet gives an example of a frying pan with information about properties of the materials which have been used. Students then need to choose an object at home and provide similar detail.
