Online sexual extortion

What is sextortion?

Sextortion is a portmanteau. This means it is made of two words blended together.

What is sextortion?

Sextortion is a form of blackmail where somebody threatens to share nudes, sexual information or videos of someone unless the victim does what they say.

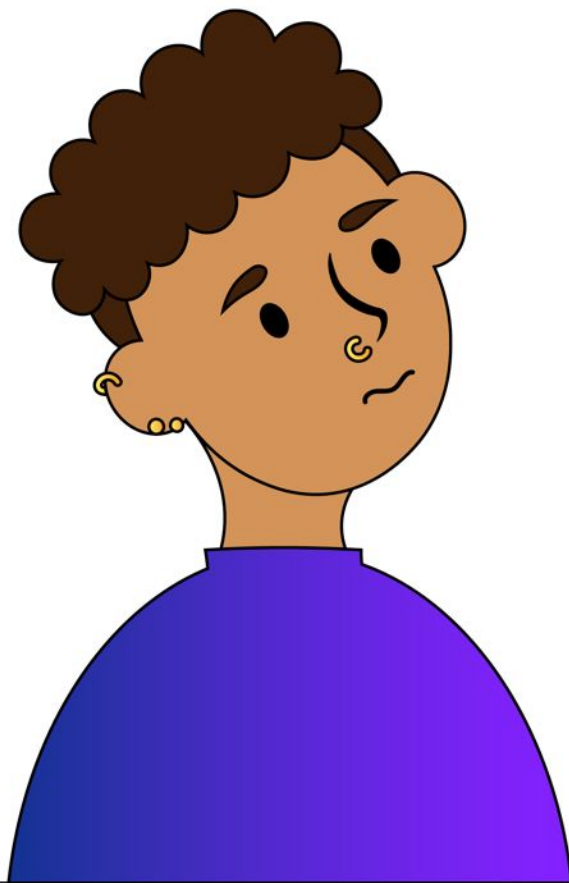

Some sextortion is financially motivated. The blackmailer will demand money in return for not sharing the images.

Some sextortion has other motivations. For example, the blackmailer might demand more images.

Sextortion is a crime and can be committed by individuals or a group of people working together.

What is sextortion?

I got a message on social media from an anonymous profile. The sender told me they had nude photos of me, but I hadn't sent any. I thought they might have hacked me and taken them from my phone. They told me to send them £250 in gift vouchers, or they'd share the pictures online.

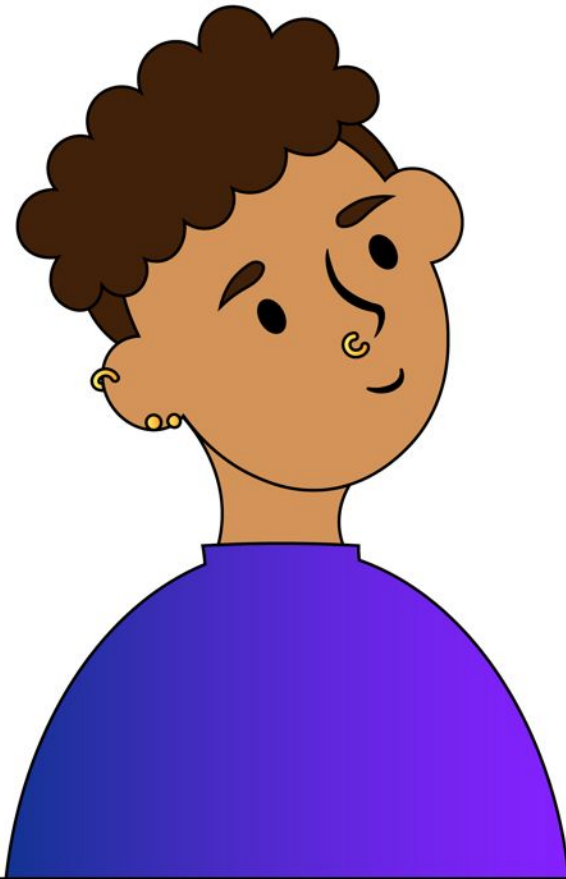

Kal

Let's Discuss:

1. What do you think Kal should do next?
2. Where do you think Kal could go for more advice or support?

What can you do?

○○○ If you have been targeted...

1. Don't blame yourself.
2. Do not respond to the messages.
3. Save the evidence.
4. Report what has happened.

○○○ How to report...

1. Talk to a trusted adult.
2. Report it on the platform you were contacted on.
3. Report it to the police by calling 101.

Where can you report?

A law enforcement agency working to help keep children safe from online harms.

ceop.police.uk

Nude image of you online?
We can help take it down.

Run by Childline and the Internet Watch Foundation for young people under 18 in the UK to report sexual images and videos of themselves to try to remove them from the internet, plus access to counselling and support. childline.org.uk/remove

Advice on how to contact and make a report to major social media platforms.

reportharmfulcontent.com

A way of contacting the local police in a non-emergency situation.

police.uk/pu/contact-us

A service that can help you remove or stop the online sharing of nudes taken before you were 18.

takeitdown.ncmec.org

If you are not ready to tell an adult about what has happened, Report Remove and Take It Down can help you take action to get images removed yourself.

Using strong and separate passwords

Taking caution with online purchases

What can you do to protect yourself from scams and fraud online?

Using 2SV

Look out for the signs of a scam before deciding if something online can be trusted

Talk to a trusted adult if you're unsure

Safer Internet Day 2025

The background of the slide is a vibrant purple with a white grid pattern. Several overlapping browser window icons are scattered across the scene. Each window has a colored header bar and three small white circles in the top-left corner, representing window control buttons. The windows are in various colors: orange, pink, light blue, purple, yellow, and light green. The central focus is a pink window with the text "Too good to be true?". Below it, a blue window contains the text "Protecting yourself and others from scams online".
