Weekly Newsletter for Parents & Students

Welcome

I'm sorry to have to share sad news with our community. I think it fitting in this newsletter to pay tribute to someone so dear to us, Maria Everly, who passed away on Friday following a battle against cancer - someone held so dearly in our community.

Maria Everley, a Desford resident, was our long-term Chair of Governors for Bosworth Community College and following that was instrumental in the leadership and growth of our LiFE Multi-Academy Trust of schools.

I worked with Maria for many years. She was an inspirational member of the local community and dedicated her life to making a positive difference for young people, both in our schools and in her career.

Maria worked with the National Citizenship programme and was instrumental in raising the aspirations of students from a whole variety of backgrounds.

This included setting up placements for Bosworth students to experience University during the summer break which led to many of them being the first in their family history to transition to University.

Maria's children Tom and Richard both attended our school and she was very proud of the support provided by our brilliant team of staff. I taught Richard Chemistry, and Maria was so proud of his successes, as any parent would be.

Even recently, when I met Maria, she talked proudly of what her children were up to now.

We have opened a condolences book at Bosworth Academy reception and I encourage anyone who knows Maria to leave a message which will then be shared with her husband and family. You may wish to let any friends or family know about this so they too can send in a message to our office@bosworthacademy.org.uk email address.

Maria's care and passion will remain with us as we continue to make those positive life differences for our young people, and we will hold her values strongly in our memories.

Excellence Evening

On Thursday we celebrated the hard work and dedication of our students who were in Year 11, 12 and 13 last academic year during our annual Excellence Evening.

The evening saw curriculum leaders from the different faculties across the school nominate students who have excelled in their chosen subjects.

Mr Brown was “so proud to welcome so many young people and their families to our Excellence Evening.

“Each year it is a real challenge for our Curriculum Leaders to identify students from examination years to receive these prestigious awards.

“Students were nominated for academic excellence, which most often came down to who had achieved the highest UMS marks in their examinations. It was great to hear their teachers talking proudly about their achievements and recognising the commitment and dedication shown by all,” said Mr Brown.

Mr Brown also praised the “fantastic musical pieces” that were performed by Year 12 students

Rhea A and Xander G, showing the many talents of Bosworth Academy’s students.

Well done to all students who received their awards.

Rewards Breakfast

This week has seen the first full week of our new rewards programme.

All years have had the opportunity to choose a reward from our 'Bosworth Bazaar' with students opting to trade in their reward points if they wish to. Many have decided to save their points and target larger rewards, whilst some have gone for the more instantaneous approach!

We also had our first 6C Breakfast yesterday with 50 students coming down to enjoy pastries and hot chocolate. These students were the top 10 students with Character Reward Points in their year group (Years 7-11) and had a lovely time during tutor time with Mr Brown. We will run our next breakfast in two weeks for Collaboration with all year groups.

Since we started, staff have handed out a whopping 34061 reward points (correct as of Friday morning) with our Year 8s leading the way with over 9000 points!

A reminder that students and parents can check total reward points on Arbor.

Great North Run

It was the Great North Run last weekend and Bosworth Academy's staff and student communities were represented.

First up was Year 8 student Ava D-I who completed the Great North Junior Run on Saturday 9 September for the third time. "I have done the Junior North Run before. It went fantastic. As this time was my personal best I am really proud of myself. I have done it for the past three years and I have done better every year. It was really hot but I managed to push through it. "Over the years the longest I took was 43 minutes but as of this year, I completed it in 28 minutes," said Ava. On Sunday 10 September Headteacher Mr

Brown completed the half marathon and he described it as an "incredible experience". "We faced record temperatures for the world's biggest half-marathon and towards the end of the race experienced a month's rainfall in about half an hour when the road became a river! "I found the second half of the run challenging as it was just so hard to cool down, I became unconcerned about beating Mo Farah or my finish time (1hr43min), and instead focused on reaching the finish line at South Shields beach. I must say a big thank you to everyone who sponsored me for the Teenage Cancer Trust charity. "My highlights included watching 102 year old

WWII veteran Bill Cooksey cross the finish line, and seeing Keith Roberts who is blind, complete the race untethered, with only his guide ringing bells for him to follow for 21.1km. In his interview with Gabby Logan he shared how he had at last felt true 'freedom'. "It was also great to hear that Ava had completed the Junior North Run too!" said Mr Brown.

Maths Puzzle of the Week

Last Week's Answer: 12 rows

There are a few ways of going about solving this puzzle. The most straightforward method is to add up rows until you get to 3216.

The first row must have  $8 \times 50$  seats in it and the second  $8 \times 47$ , the third  $8 \times 44$  etc. To save time you may notice that the number of seats in each row are decreasing by 24 each time.

The table on the right keeps track of the total seats. It's clear to see there that we require 12 rows to get exactly 3216 seats.

Row number	Seats in that row	Cumulative seats
1	400	400
2	376	776
3	352	1128
4	328	1456
5	304	1760
6	280	2040
7	256	2296
8	232	2528
9	208	2736
10	184	2920
11	160	3080
12	136	3216

This Week's Puzzle: Number of Edges

A cube has 12 edges and 8 vertices (corners).

When all the vertices of a cube are 'sliced off' it is called truncating and it looks like the shape below.

A truncated cube has 36 edges.

If a truncated cube is truncated again, what is the maximum number of edges the reluctant shape could have?

Teacher Feature

This week we discover more about new Maths teacher, Miss Watson, who recently joined us from a school in Barrow-upon-Soar.

"First impressions have been great so far," says Miss Watson.

"It's been an interesting time to start in a heatwave! My classes have been really welcoming", added Miss Watson.

Outside of the classroom Miss Watson is a keen film buff amongst her many interests:

"As all my classes have already been told, me and my partner both love crocs, rollercoasters, bingo and cinema trips. We have seen 51 films in the cinema so far this year!"

Welcome to Bosworth Academy Miss Watson!

Post 16 Presentations

Monday 18 September sees two after-school presentations that will inform parents/carers and students about our Sixth Form and what options are available beyond Bosworth Academy. Between 5-6PM there will be a Year 12 Information presentation where information will be shared on Post 16 expectations and the target setting process. This will then be followed by a question and answer session.

The transition from GCSE to A level is a steep learning curve. We know that parents/carers play a huge role in maximising the achievement of their children and look forward to welcoming you to the presentation.

Shortly afterwards will be a Year 13 "Why University" presentation at 6.30PM on Monday 18 September. Here we will explore the options available to assist you and your child to decide their pathway after Year 13.

The presentation will last approximately forty minutes and information will be shared on the application process. This will then be followed by a question and answer session.

Both presentations will be held in the Main Hall and we look forward to seeing you there.

Mrs Holdback, Head of Key Stage Five

Previously Looked After Children

Schools are entitled to funding for children who were Previously Looked After (PLAC). Previously looked-after children are those who are no longer looked after by a local authority in England and Wales because they are the subject of an adoption, special guardianship or child arrangements order; or they were adopted from 'state care' outside England and Wales. 'State care' is care provided by a public authority, a religious organisation, or any other organisation whose sole or main purpose is to benefit society. If your child is in this category, we must add them to our school census data. Please can you contact Beth Ladkin bethl6@bosworthacademy.org.uk if your child has joined the school or you have not informed the school that they were Previously Looked After.

Top Tips for SETTING BOUNDARIES AROUND GAMING

If your child loves video games, then you'll probably be aware that how long they spend gaming – and what they're actually playing – can occasionally become a source of concern or conflict. The UK's trade body for interactive entertainment, Ukie, has recently launched a campaign to promote safer and more responsible gaming among young people – with parents and carers helping by setting sensible and fair boundaries. Our guide has tips on key areas where you could agree some healthy ground rules for your child's gaming activity.

PROMOTE SAFER GAME CHOICES

Deciding which online games are OK – and which should be avoided – is tricky. Some titles allow children to cooperate or compete with strangers, which creates potential risks. Watching your child play online for a while could provide more insight into a particular game, while the parental controls on most consoles allow you to limit who can chat to your child or send them friend requests. Remind your child of the hazards around strangers online when you discuss this boundary with them.

ENCOURAGE REGULAR BREAKS

Help your child understand the need to take regular breaks, playing in shorter bursts rather than marathon sessions. Bear in mind that some games (such as role-playing games) require time investment from the player, while others (online team games, for example) can't be stopped or paused at a moment's notice. A quick break every hour or so is good practice, and you could suggest some things to do in these breaks, such as having a drink of water or getting some fresh air.

AGREE SPENDING LIMITS

There's no doubt that gaming can be expensive, and younger players often don't realise how much paying for digital items and subscriptions can add up to. Many young gamers love to buy new skins or upgrades for their character, so you could settle on a fixed amount that your child is allowed to spend on in-game items each week or month. This sort of boundary will not only help your child to manage their expectations but will also make you more aware of the price of these items.

DISCUSS AGE RATINGS

Children often ignore the age ratings on games – or are unaware they even exist. If you're happy with your child playing a particular game even though it's rated above their age, then establish that as a boundary: emphasise that you've made an exception, and talk about what age ratings mean and why they're important. You could add context to this boundary by browsing games' boxes together while shopping, discussing why some games might have earned certain age ratings.

FACTOR IN FRIENDS

If your child is a keen video gamer, the chances are that they'll have other gamers among their social circle, too. When friends visit, do they instantly dash to their console or computer? You could put boundaries in place before their guests arrive by agreeing on a length of gaming time. Bear in mind, though, that they may try to extend this once they're together. Try coming up with activities or challenges for them during screen breaks – if they join in, they earn a little extra time on their game.

ENJOY GAMING TOGETHER

Setting time aside to play video games together can be an enjoyable bonding exercise. Undeniably, some young gamers may be less enthusiastic about a parent or carer joining in, but it can be a productive way of encouraging them to share their hobby with you. Setting goals or tasks might be useful: if they love Minecraft, choose something to build together; if Fortnite's their favourite, ask to try out some of the fun game modes, like Prop Hunt, which don't require high skill levels.

TALK ABOUT EMOTIONS

Help your child to monitor their emotions as they play. Discuss what is (and isn't) an acceptable level of competitiveness to show while gaming. Are they allowed to trash talk other players, for example? Can they notice when they get angry if they lose? Do they think these emotions are healthy? Some games can provoke anger, but others can bring joy, humour and the thrill of overcoming a challenge. Try to steer your child towards games that tend to produce these more positive feelings.

BE PREPARED FOR TROLLS

A frequent problem when gaming online is other players who are deliberately troublesome. Make sure your child knows how to report and block someone who makes their experience a negative one. Between you, decide if or how they should deal with these online trolls. Talk about where your child's boundaries are in terms of what they think is acceptable: what behaviour by other users is merely frustrating, and what crosses the line to become upsetting or abusive.

Book Buzz

It's been an extremely busy and exciting week in our Library this week, with lots of library lessons taking place!

Our Year 7 students have also been choosing a Bookbuzz book, which will be their gift from the school. Find out more about the Bookbuzz programme here.

Lots of hard choices have been made, as all of the books on offer are absolutely brilliant and picked specifically for Year 7 students. Here is some information about the books on offer this year.

The order will be placed over the next few days and the books should be with us around the end of October/beginning of November, when they will be given out to students.

A couple of copies of each book on offer will be added to our library stock and will be available to borrow from the school library, so our students will be able to read all of them - in fact, it will be one of their reading challenges this year.

There are competitions that our students can take part in, to win even more books, just take a look here.

Key Stage Three

There are stories about people who want to live forever. This is not one of those stories. This is a story about someone who wants to stop... So when everything Alfie knows and loves is destroyed in a fire, and the modern world comes crashing in, Alfie embarks on a mission to find friendship, acceptance, and a different way to live...

... which means finding a way to make sure he will eventually die.

Key Stage Four

Imagine you're the only boy in a town of men. And you can hear everything they think. And they can hear everything you think. Imagine you don't fit in with their plans... Todd Hewitt is just one month away from the birthday that will make him a man. But his town has been keeping secrets from him. Secrets that are going to force him to run... This book has been made into a movie, Chaos Walking.
