26.1.21 To write a poem

Read the poem 'I went to the fridge' by John Foster. Today we will be writing our own version of the poem using food we might find in our own fridge! We will add detail by using adjectives to describe the items.

Start by writing a list of items you found in your fridge and thinking of an adjective to describe each one.

E.g crunchy carrots, juicy apples, yummy yoghurts.

I went to the fridge

I went to the fridge.
I opened the door.
There on the shelves
Inside I saw
10 fish fingers
9 strawberry yoghurts
8 beefburgers
7 slices of ham
6 large eggs
5 cold sausages
4 chunks of cheese
3 bottles of milk
2 cans of coke
And a big bowl of blackcurrant jelly!
By John Foster

Write your ideas into a poem. We will start our poems in the same way as the original. Continue your poem, using your ideas above.
