
NO OUTSIDERS
IN OUR SCHOOL
Teaching the Equality Act in Primary Schools

The Equality Act 2010

It requires that public bodies:

- have due regard to the need to eliminate discrimination
- foster good relationships between different people when carrying out activities.
- Advance equality of opportunity

At Hebburn Lakes we promote an ethos of acceptance and an equality of opportunity where ALL are equal.

It is our duty to teach children this in our school.

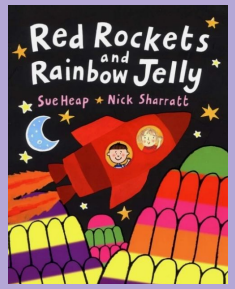

Why ?

We are preparing children for life in Britain, so that they have a full and grounded view of society and understand that we have different people and communities where we live.

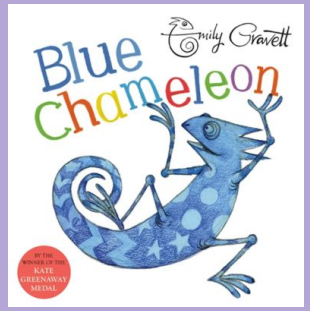

We want our children to to be able to work alongside anyone, regardless of their belief, backgrounds or identity, without prejudice or fear.

What is No Outsiders?

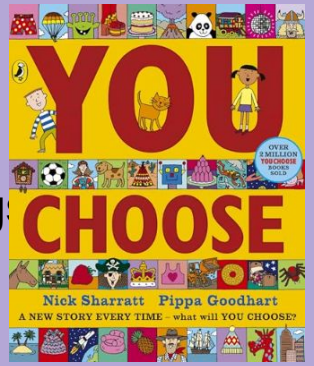

No Outsiders is a scheme that uses age appropriate picture books to teach the 2010 equality act.
