Safer Internet Day 2022

Dear parents and carers,

One of the biggest challenges facing parents about keeping their children safe in today's world is keeping them safe on the internet. Speaking as a parent, I know this is becoming increasingly a concern for most and it is hard for parents to keep their own internet safety knowledge up to date. In school this week, we will be teaching our children how to keep safe while using technology. You too could keep up with your children on this important matter.

As part of Safer Internet Day Cleveland Police are hosting two webinars for parents. There will be two webinars hosted on 8th February 2022 for parents to access; security and using social media safely. These sessions will run throughout the morning and afternoon. The link can be found below for tickets.

I strongly urge you to click and attend this event remotely as it promises to offer excellent advice to parents on the following themes and look at the risks that your children face on-line and what you as parents need to be aware of. This is an interactive session and will look at:

- Gaming
- Social Media
- Stranger danger
- Risks of children becoming involved in crime

There will also be time at the end for questions and answers so please put some time aside to update yourself and join in the effort of keeping our children safe online.

Yours

Mr Conwell
