

Job of the week

 Job name	 Florist
? What is it?	Someone who sells flowers and plants to customers. Florists also arrange flowers for weddings and funerals
 Where do you do it?	   Shops, Train stations and online
  Skills you need....	    Creativity, Good communication, Good time keeping
  What days / hours do you work?	   Florists work between 25 and 30 hours per week. Most work on Saturdays and start early in the morning.
  Useful qualifications or interests	    You can get into floristry through a college course or an apprenticeship where you learn on the job.
 What do you get paid?	    Florists are paid a starting wage of £12,500 per year. This goes up with experience. Skilled Florists can earn approximately £20,000 per year

Job of the week

Job name	Florist
What is it?	Someone who sells flowers and plants to customers. Florists also make floral arrangements for weddings, funerals and other events.
Where do you do it?	Florists mostly work in there own shops or have stalls in markets and train stations. Some florists now operate online.
Skills you need.....	You will need to be creative and know how to care for plants. You will need to have good customer service skills and time keeping, to make sure orders go out on time.
What days / hours do you work?	Most florists work Monday to Saturday for about 8 to 10 hours per day. Florists can start very early in the morning.
Useful qualifications or interests	You can either learn on the job by starting as a Saturday boy or girl or you can do a college course like this one: https://www.capel.ac.uk/course/floristry-and-event-styling/foundation-diploma-in-floristry-level-1
What do you get paid?	Florists are typically paid a starting wage of £12,500 per year. This increases with experience. Skilled florists can expect to earn approximately £20,000 per year.

