1. Rationale

The Laurus Trust is committed to ensuring that the necessary provision is made for all student/pupils with SEND. The SEND code of practice (2015) states that all children and young people are entitled to an education that enables them to make progress so that they;

- ✓ Achieve their best
- ✓ Become confident individuals living fulfilling lives
- ✓ Make a successful transition into adulthood, whether into employment, further or higher education or training

The Laurus Trust believes that every student/pupil, regardless of background or circumstance, should be given an equal opportunity to become the best that they can possibly be. We are committed to ensuring that all students/pupils have full entitlement and access to rich and diverse learning opportunities, which will open the doors to the future of their choice. We are just as ambitious for students with special educational needs and disabilities (SEND) as for every other child.

Each student, regardless of ability, is entitled to a broad and balanced curriculum which is relevant to their educational needs and personal development. The curriculum offered should give all students a sense of achievement and thereby help them develop confidence and self-esteem.

2. Policy development

This policy has been developed by Trust Leaders of Inclusion, Emma Warrington and Dr Mark Sackville-Ford, along with the school SENCOs and senior leaders with responsibility for inclusion. Parental consultation on this policy was also carried out via our Parent SEND Champions group, in the interest of co-production and collaboration. It has been approved by the Trustees of the Laurus Trust.

This policy should be read in conjunction with the SEND Information Report, that is published on the website for each Laurus Trust school. This provides a detailed insight into the specific question to support young people with SEND within each Trust school.

This policy complies with the statutory requirement laid out in the SEND Code of Practice (2015) and has been written with reference to the following documents and legislative frameworks:

- ✓ Equality Act 2010: advice for schools DfE (2013)
- ✓ SEND code of practice: 0 to 25 years (2015)
- ✓ The Children and Families Act (2014)
- ✓ The SEND Regulations (2014)
- ✓ Keeping Children Safe in Education (2015)
- ✓ Trust and individual school's Safeguarding Policy
- ✓ School Accessibility Plan
- ✓ Teachers' Standards (2012)

The Equality Act 2010 brought together a range of previous acts into a single act, aiming to harmonise and strengthen discrimination law and support progress on equality. Schools have a legal responsibility:

- To make reasonable adjustments to ensure that disabled pupils are not at a substantial disadvantage
- To not treat disabled pupils 'less favourably'

Disability discrimination is less favourable treatment than that received by someone else for a reason related to the pupil's disability when it cannot be justified

3. Aims

Within the Laurus Trust, we aim to;

- ✓ Ensure that the needs of student/pupils with SEND are identified as early as possible
- ✓ Maximise academic progress and personal development for all student/pupils
- ✓ Reduce and, where possible, close achievement and progress gaps between different groups of student/pupils
- ✓ Maintain a standard whereby all staff within our school are aware of the importance of identifying and providing for those pupils who have special educational needs and or disability.
- ✓ Provide a safe environment in which all student/pupils can thrive and develop into independent and resilient learners
- ✓ Prepare our student/pupils for life beyond school to enable them to become confident and responsible citizens
- ✓ Ensure that all children have a right to a broad and balanced curriculum
- ✓ Provide a differentiated curriculum that provides appropriate, challenging learning opportunities for all student/pupils in line with fully inclusive classroom practice
- ✓ Provide the necessary support for students in school whilst fostering independence
- ✓ Ensure that vulnerable or disadvantaged student/pupils are given the support they need to remove the barriers to their learning and personal development
- ✓ Encourage an open and continual dialogue amongst staff, parents and other relevant professionals in order to achieve the best possible outcome for individual pupils.
- ✓ Ensure that student/pupils with SEND are fully included within all areas of school life to ensure that they make progress both socially and emotionally as well as academically
- ✓ Support the professional learning in the are of SEND and Inclusion for all staff to ensure that all staff have the necessary skills and understanding to meet a wide range of special educational needs

- ✓ Work in partnership with local authorities and external professionals to ensure the best provision for children and young people with SEND
- ✓ Show a commitment to co-production and working positively with parents/carers and families

4. Identifying Special Educational Needs and Disability

Defining special educational needs

The SEND code of practice (2015) states that;

‘A child or young person has SEN if they have a learning difficulty or disability which calls for special educational provision to be made for him or her.’

A child of compulsory school age or a young person has a learning difficulty or disability if he or she;

- Has a significantly greater difficulty in learning than the majority of others of the same age
- Has a disability which prevents or hinders him or her from making use of facilities of a kind generally provided for others of the same age in mainstream schools or mainstream post-16 institutions
- Special educational provision is educational or training provision that is “additional to or different from” that made generally for other children or young people of the same age

(SEND code of practice: 0 to 25 years, 2015)

Identification before joining a Laurus Trust Primary School

We are committed to the early identification of student/pupils with SEND in order to support future progression for the child through school. Prior to joining a Laurus Trust Primary School, staff work closely with families to make an early assessment of need. We recognise that parents or carers know their child best, and where possible we have an informal home visit to meet the child in their own context. We are fully committed to co-production as a key feature of our SEND processes.

Where the child is already known to an outside agency, such as health or social care, we work in a multi-agency way to ensure that we have the right information so that the best possible provision, intervention and support can be put in place as early as possible. Where a child already has an EHCP prior to starting school, we will work to have a Student Focused Plan (SFP) in place before entry.

Identification once within a Laurus Trust Primary School

Teachers and support staff are skilled at identifying the needs of student/pupils in our primary schools and understanding how their development should progress. On entry to school a 'baseline assessment' is carried out to identify current levels of attainment and broader areas of strengths and development. With the support of senior leaders, we regularly monitor the progress of our student/pupils, which allows the early identification of a concern. Where a teacher identifies a difficulty or a concern about a pupil's progress this will be discussed with the parents and SENCO, and the graduated process will be followed. Where appropriate we also take advice and support from external professionals. Teachers collate the information into the School Focused Plan to ensure that detailed provision is outlined and clear targets are in place for the pupil.

Identification before joining a Laurus Trust secondary school

We are committed to the early identification of student/pupils with SEND. Prior to joining a Laurus Trust school, our pastoral and SEND team work with feeder primary schools to collate information on the specific needs of student/pupils with SEND. We collaborate with all of the relevant outside agencies and with parents, to ensure that a full picture of need is established. We work closely with the EHCP and admissions team within each Local Authority to allow a strategic approach to admission for students with SEND. All this ensures that we have the right information so that the best possible provision, intervention and support can be put in place as early as possible. We communicate this with parents to ensure that the different provisions that are possible between mainstream primary and secondary schools is clearly explained.

Identification once within a Laurus Trust secondary school

Teaching and support staff, supported by the senior leadership team, regularly assess the progress of all student/pupils, to identify those student/pupils that are not making the required level of progress in line with their ability. This can be academic progress which is quantifiable, or social and emotional progress which is measured qualitatively, primarily via the pastoral team.

Our Graduated Response

The first response to student/pupils who are not making expected levels of progress, should be the teacher adapting their approach to target the student/pupil's specific weakness. This is known as 'Quality First Teaching'. If student/pupils continue to struggle to make expected progress, the school SEND Leader within each school should assess whether the student/pupil meets the definition of Special Educational Needs or Disability.

We then follow a cycle of Assess, Plan, Do and Review:

- Assess - In line with school procedures, school staff will carry out or request additional assessments of a student/pupil to identify an area of need.
- Plan - Once the assessment part of the process has been completed, the pupil's needs are determined in a consultation meeting with staff and parents. Actions will be agreed and, if appropriate, a School Focused Plan (SFP) will be created and the pupil will be placed on the school's SEND register.
- Do – The School Focused Plan is then followed for an agreed period of time. This is shared with all members of staff, with teaching staff taking responsibility for its implementation. The SEND Leader supports all staff and are responsible for the quality assurance of SFPs and ensuring that statutory requirements are met.
- Review – The effectiveness of support and intervention is reviewed regularly with staff and parents. This is an opportunity to assess the impact of any intervention and this the cycle begins again. Following a review, a new plan is implemented if one is needed and the SEND register is updated appropriately.

The SEND Leads/Primary SENCOs will respond to concerns raised by parents, student/pupils or any member of our staff, to ensure that student/pupils who may have SEND are identified as early as possible. The SEND Leader will signpost outside agency or medical support for parents to pursue diagnosis for different learning needs and/or disability, or where appropriate, instigate formal diagnostic testing themselves.

- Categorising Special Educational Needs

Student/pupils with special educational needs and or disability are categorised under one of the four following areas of need as set out in the SEND code of practice (2015);

- Cognition and Learning
- Sensory and/or Physical Needs
- Social, Emotional and Mental Health
- Communication and Interaction

Whilst the primary area of need above is usually identified, students/pupils can have needs which are included across multiple broad areas of need.

The level of the support that student/pupils with SEND require is denoted by the following categories;

- ✓ Monitor/First Concerns – These student/pupils do not have a special educational need and/or disability. These student/pupils have an additional need that requires a level of understanding from staff so that their needs are met through effective quality first differentiated teaching strategies. This is a universal offer, available to all student/pupils. These student/pupils do not necessarily have any direct input from Learning Support. Should a student/pupil in this category fail to make adequate progress, the decision might be made to escalate their level of support up to SEND support.
- ✓ SEND Support – These are student/pupils are classified as having special educational needs and/or disability. These student/pupils receive provision which goes above and beyond the mainstream provision and is classified a 'targeted approach'. Student/pupils on SEND support do not have a specific funding stream designated specifically to support their needs, but a proportion of the schools SEND budget is allocated to support these student/pupils to make progress.

- ✓ EHCP (Education and Health Care Plans) – Student/pupils with an EHCP have complex special educational needs and/or disability. Their provision is bespoke to the child and is classified as an 'individualised' model of support. These student/pupils receive a designated funding allocation to support them in school and to provide additional educational provision which goes above and beyond mainstream provision. Schools will make strategic decisions on how to best meet the provision outlined in Section F of the EHCP.

Our Parent SEND Champions have produced a 'Parent guide to EHCPs' which explains what it is and the processes about applying for one. Please speak to your school SENCO to get a copy of this guide.

As our schools follow a needs-led model we do not rely on a specific diagnosis of need or require an EHCP before appropriate support is in place. We encourage parents/cares to discuss provision with their school SENCO prior to making a parental application for an EHCP

6. The link between special educational needs and disability

Many children and young people who have special educational needs may also have a disability. The Equality Act 2010 defines disability as ‘...a physical or mental impairment which has a long term and substantial adverse effect on their ability to carry out normal day to day activities’.

In this context, ‘long term’ means over a year and ‘substantial’ means ‘more than minor or trivial’. This definition includes long term health conditions such as asthma, diabetes, epilepsy, cancer and sensory impairments. Many children and young people who have these medical/health conditions will not have special educational needs and their safe and full access to learning and progress will be covered by the duties set out in ‘The Equality Act’, including the requirement on all public bodies to make reasonable adjustments.

This means that, where a child or young person has a disability, the way in which their needs are met will depend on the impact the disability has on their access to education. If, with the appropriate non-discriminatory practices and reasonable adjustments, they can access education and make progress commensurate with their peers by accessing the resources ‘normally available’ to their educational setting, there will not be a need for them to be protected by an Education, Health and Care plan.

Some of these children and young people with long term health conditions should have a Health Care Plan which addresses their safety, health and wellbeing whilst in the early years, school or college setting. This policy has been developed in line with the Department of Education (DfE) published guidance “Supporting pupils at school with medical conditions.”

7. The Student Focused Plan

Where a Special Educational Need is identified, the SEND Leader will communicate the needs of the student/pupil to all of the relevant school staff via a Student Focused Plan (SFP). This comprehensive paperwork allows effective communication of needs and the ways that they will be met. The Student Focused Plan will include the following;

- ✓ The student/pupil's specific strengths and difficulties
- ✓ Bespoke strategies to support the student/pupil
- ✓ The intervention that is in place to support their difficulties
- ✓ The views of the parent
- ✓ The views of the student/pupil
- ✓ Feedback from staff
- ✓ A section to review the student/pupils' progress against agreed outcomes

All students on the SEND register will have an SFP in place including those with an EHCP. The SFP allows students/pupils with an EHCP to have shorter-term targets that will link with the EHCP outcomes.

The philosophy of the document is that this is one main set of papers that give all the necessary detailed information. This has been developed through a number of working groups and in consultation with parent groups.

8. Provision

The law says:

“If a registered pupil or a student/pupil at a school or other institution has special educational needs, the appropriate authority must, in exercising its functions in relation to the school or other institution, use its best endeavours to secure that the special educational provision called for by the pupil’s or student/pupil’s special educational needs is made.”

(Section 66 of the Children and Families Act 2014)

Using best endeavours means doing everything they can to meet the child or young person’s SEND. When Laurus Trust schools have exhausted our best endeavours to meet the needs of a young person, further guidance and support will be sought from the school’s Local Authority, who retain statutory responsibilities for the appropriate education for children or young people with SEND.

Provision for student/pupils with SEND is additional to or different from the mainstream curriculum in a variety of ways and may be implemented by providing;
