JOANNA LINDSAY

If I think back to when Joanna first joined Whickham in Year 7, to where she is now, the absolute gulf in her ability is really quite incredible. What has stayed the same, however, is her passion for music, her sense of humour and a somewhat misplaced belief that she can't compose. The last fact is simply not true (although I know she won't believe me). I am still humming her GCSE composition to myself. Joanna will be very much missed at Whickham and I am delighted to hear that she will be studying music at University.
