

In Memory of Dean Henderson

Dean Henderson was an exceptional student who displayed an exemplary work ethic and enthusiasm for learning - he embodied the Wickham School ethos and had a particular flair and passion for Food Technology. It is for that reason that each year the student who demonstrates hard work, determination and enthusiasm, for Food Technology in particular, is awarded the Dean Henderson trophy. Although, this year the trophy will not be presented at an event it will still be filled with sweet treats when presented to the recipient as a representation of Dean's other love - chocolate!
